3 Ex-Policemen Request Dismissal Of Indictments

Motions to dismiss seven police burglary indictments involving three ex-city officers and a former special officer are to be considered by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at a Common Pleas Court hearing at Lisbon this afternoon.

The action to quash the charges, pending for two and a half years, was filed by attorneys for Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll, former officers, and Jerome (Jerry) Raimond, one - time special officer.

No motion was filed on behalf of Louis Stuttler, ex - officer, but it is expected the three charges against him will also be considered since he is a co - defendant.

ACTION ON the dismissal is being asked on grounds the defendfendants have not been brought to trial within the allotted legal time.

The indictments are among nine handed down by the 1956 April Grand Jury following investigation of police connection with a series of burglaries in the city in 1951-55.

Only three trials were held. Robert Hanna, ex - officer, was acquitted in the first and Cunningham and Raimond were acquitted in the second.

Dallas Bishop, former special officer who repudiated a 12-page confession on the stand in the second trial, was convicted last May for the 1952 burglary of the Smith & Phillips Co. but filed an appeal which is slated for study by the 7th District Appellate Court.

Bishop and Robert McBane, ex-officer who pleaded guilty to eight of the nine indictments, were prosecution witnesses in the first two trials.

THE INDICTMENTS which the defendants seek to have dismissed are:

Cunningham, Carroll, Raimond and McBane, burglary of Burbick's Hardware Store in 1952.

Stuttler, Carroll and McBane, burglary of the Winland Lumber Co. in 1954.

Cunningham, Carroll, Stuttler, Raimond and McBane, burglary of the J. C. Penney Co. in 1952.

Cunningham, Carroll, Stuttler, Raimond and McBane, burglary of the Pearl China Co. in 1954.

Raimond, Cunningham and McBane, burglary of the Duquesne Distributing Co. in 1951.

Cunngham and McBane, burglary of American Legion Post 4 in 1955.

Carroll, Cunningham, Bishop and McBane, burglary of the Smith & Phillips Co. in 1952.

—:—

A SIMILAR move to quash the indictments was made in January, but Judge Buzzard rejected it, directing Prosecutor G. William Brokaw to slate the trials after he reported he had more "material evidence." Since then Bishop was found guilty but no other trials were scheduled.

Bishop was tried separately on the Smith & Phillips burglary.

The Court of Appeals has slated a hearing Oct. 22 at Youngstown for testimony on Bishop's appeal. The hearing was not held earlier this month when the appellate judges visited Lisbon because the defense sought extra time to file briefs.

Prosecutor Brokaw requested an early hearing out of the county and has agreed to attend the hearing Oct. 22, although Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, counsel for Bishop, is not legally required to argue at the hearing since it is not in the regular schedule of the court.

U.S. Adds Nike Missiles For Defense Of Formosa

Assigns One Battalion To Man Weapon

Hercules Can Knock Enemy Planes More Than 75 Miles Away

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The U.S. Army's newest antiaircraft missile is being added to the defense of Formosa with the assignment here of a Nike-Hercules missile battalion.

The U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command announced today an advance party of the 71st Artillery Regiment's 2nd Missile Battalion had arrived from Ft. Bliss, Tex., and missile launching sites are being built.

The Nike-Hercules can knock down enemy aircraft more than 75 miles away. It can carry either a conventional or an atomic warhead.

The Defense Department in Washington said Monday the battalion was going to the Pacific but refused to confirm reports that it would come to Formosa.

A Nike-Hercules battalion consists of 700 to 800 men manning 48 missile launchers. This type of supersonic missile is in defense around New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and the Washington-Baltimore area.

Matador guided missiles have been in operation on Formosa since late last year. U.S. jet fighters also are on Formosa, and the 7th Fleet carries its own antiaircraft missiles and fighters.

The Nationalists got three more LSTs through Communist shellfire to Quemoy, the Defense Ministry said. The ships unloaded supplies and withdrew without damage.

This brought to nine the number of LSTs reported to have delivered cargoes to Quemoy since U.S. advisers showed the Nationalists new techniques.

Nationalist China gave credit to better U.S.-trained pilots and superior American planes for the victories it claimed in dogfights with the Communists Thursday.

The Defense Ministry said eight of its planes tangled with 30 Communist MIGs near the offshore Quemoy islands and downed five of them without a Nationalist loss. Nationalist planes also sank three Communist torpedo boats and damaged another, the ministry claimed.

U.S. Reorganizes Formosa Command

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The United States has announced reorganization of the American advisory command on Formosa, making it — in effect — a regular combat command.

The announcement by the commander of the U.S. Formosa Defense Command, Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot, said the step was taken to attain an adequate defense posture in the face of recent stepped-up Chinese Communist actions.

ENGINE RECOVERED. One unit of the tandem diesel locomotive that pulled three Jersey Central passenger cars into Newark Bay Monday was hoisted from the water Thursday by a huge floating crane. The mystery surrounding the disaster deepened when 19 railroad employes testified before the Interstate Commerce Commission that there was no discernible mechanical or human failure that might have caused the accident. Area's Upturn Led By Wages And Sales Tax

Survey Of Chamber Indicates Gains For 8 Lines Over July

Payrolls at 11 area industrial plants and sales tax receipts — barometer of retail volume — paced a continuing upturn in East Liverpool business and manufacturing indices in August.

Of the 14 indices surveyed regularly, 8 showed gains last month compared with July and 6 others declined, the Chamber of Commerce reported today in its monthly summary of conditions.

Another phase of the same survey showed all except one of the indices stands below levels at the end of August 1957 in a comparison of the cumulative totals of the first 8 months of 1958 with the same period of last year.

Payrolls at the 11 factories hit $969,945 in August, a gain of 9.3 per cent from the $887,559 shown in July. They total $8,156,120 for the first eight months of the year, down 29.8 per cent from the $11,623,550 shown at the same time in 1957.

Employment at the same plants stood at 4,127 in August, a drop of 2.6 per cent from the 4,236 shown in July. Employment averaged 4,338 monthly through August, a decline of 15.4 per cent from the 5,127 shown at the same time in 1957.

Sales tax receipts jumped from $42,527 in July to $53,788 in August — an increase of 26.5 per cent. They total $401,701 for the first eight months of 1958, a decline of 16.4 per cent from the $480,616 shown at the same time last year.

Coupled with the increase in earnings was a decline in the city's relief load. It fell from 111 cases in July to 98 in August, a drop of 11.7 per cent. The case load has averaged 107 monthly so far in 1958, up 25.9 per cent over the 85 average shown at the same time in 1957.

Both inbound and outbound railroad carloadings joined in the upturn, an indication of increasing industrial activity.

Inbound carloadings totaled 274 in August, up 17.6 per cent from the 233 registered in July. They total 1,876 for the first 8 months of the year, a drop of 40.3 per cent from the 3,140 shown at the same time in 1957.

Outbound carloadings rose from 230 in July to 246 in August, an

City Escapes Auto Mishaps On Busy Night

Tighter police controls and increased alertness on the part of motorists were credited today by Chief Americo Radeschi for an accident - free Thursday night despite the heavy influx of traffic resulting from the late store hours.

Tighter enforcement was decreed for last night after two successive Thursdays on which East Liverpool recorded a traffic accident toll far exceeding the Labor Day weekend's.

On the first Thursday of the month, Sept. 4, East Liverpool which five persons were hurt. chalked up seven mishaps in Last Thursday, Sept. 11, three were hurt in five crashes.

Noting the sudden increase in the traffic toll after a comparatively accident - free week, Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti called for tighter police controls and increased alertness on the part of both drivers and pedestrians.

The city recorded only one crash yesterday and it came shortly after noon — long before the traffic peak in late afternoon and early evening.

The collision at 1:05 at W. 6th St. and Peach Alley involved a 1954 truck driven by Cornelius M. Tarver, 1790 Pennsylvania Ave., and a 1951 two - door sedan operated by William T. Griffith, 69, of Irondale, police said.

A belated report was filed on a Wednesday afternoon crash. Nora V. Dyke of Cannons Mills said an unidentified auto backed into her 1956 sedan while it was halted in a traffic lane at Lincoln Ave. and Smith St., damaging the grill and body.

Snow Flakes In September? That's Report

Thursday's leaden skies not only previewed fall and winter, but brought a whisper of snow, according to reports from various parts of the district.

Mrs. Guy Garwood of Avondale St. and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Eisenhuth of Erie St. were among district residents who reported snow flakes among the intermittened drizzle yesterday afternoon.

Some children in the East End and some in Salineville also said they saw snow flakes, despite yesterday afternoon's temperature of 65 degrees.

"Rains easy, gutters busy, winds and foggy, time for a toddy," is the mid - September prediction of the Old Farmers Almanac, and snow isn't slated until November. October often has flurries.

Mrs. Garwood said she saw flakes between 2 and 3 p. m., followed by a fine snow. She said it only lasted about 10 minutes, and melted upon contact with the ground.

The mercury had reached the day's high of 65 at the time of the sighting, according to attendants at Dam 8, who said it may have been fine hail from high altitudes.

The overnight low was 55 degrees, so the temperatures the past 24 hours were far above the freezing mark of 32 when snow usually develops. Yesterday's precipitation was 0.05 inch.

UN Showdown Set On Seating Of Red China

Pressure Applied By U.S. And India After Postponement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The General Assembly's Steering Committee headed for a showdown vote today on whether to schedule a bitter debate on Red China's claim to a voice in the U.N.

But a group of smaller powers was reported trying to head off the discussion for now to avoid jarring the atmosphere surrounding the Warsaw talks between the United States and Communist China.

Pressure for an early Steering Committee vote came from the United States and India after Assembly President Charles Malik had postponed the question twice in as many days.

The United States, angered over the repeated delays, was confident the U.N. would follow past procedure and vote to shelve the issue for another year.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was described as shocked by the postponements. A U.S. spokesman said: "We want a vote and we want it now."

The spokesman said the United States did not want to duck debate in the full Assembly by letting the question get bottled up in the Steering Committee.

India's Delegate Arthur S. Lall also said he did not intend to be talked out of pressing his request to give the Peiping government a seat in the U.N. "We are going ahead," he said.

For several years neutralist India has supported Red Chinese claims to a U.N. seat. This year the Soviet press and radio has been laying the groundwork for India's diplomatic move with claims that the Formosa crisis pointed up Peiping's absence from the world forum.

Informed sources said the move to dissuade the United States and India from pressing their rival proposals to a vote came from Ireland, Australia, Canada and Ceylon.

Their move was based on the theory that if the committee votes at all, its report would automatically go to the 81-nation Assembly and touch off fierce public debate over Communist China in the middle of the Warsaw talks on the Formosa Strait crisis.

25 Wait Arraignment Monday In Indictments

An East End man and one from Negley charged with sexual offenses in secret indictments by the September Grand Jury, will be among 25 slated for arraignment Monday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond Buzzard at Lisbon.

Raymond Landfried, 23, of 1169 Erie St. and Wayne Campbell, 20, of Negley were charged with carnal knowledge of a minor female.

Two other secret indictments have not yet been served, according to Sheriff Russell VanFossan, who said one defendant is at Lima State Hospital and the other has not been located.

Criminal trials will begin Sept. 29.

U.S. Official Wounded By Cyprus Youth

Shot By Gunman Who May Have Been Firing At Briton

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — U.S. Vice Consul John Page Wentworth was in dangerous condition today with three bullet wounds inflicted by a young gunman who may have believed he was shooting a Briton.

The gunman fired over the garden fence as Wentworth stood behind his home Thursday night. The 33-year-old diplomat had just been romping with his 3-year-old daughter Caroline. He was hit twice in the stomach and once in the leg.

He was taken to the British military hospital, where his condition was listed as dangerous. The gunman escaped.

After an operation, Wentworth's condition was described as slightly better today.

Troops and police were out in force stopping traffic, checking identities and carrying out searches for the gunman.

Outside the Wentworth home, investigators on hands and knees made a minute search for spent cartridges and other clues.

The American vice consul was one of four men wounded in short period of violence in Nicosia Thursday.

About the same time a British airman was slightly wounded by a gunman a couple of blocks away and two Turkish Cypriot policemen also were wounded.

Offers Legal Plan

Vote Segregation, Gov. Faubus Asks

By The Associated Press

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas Thursday night offered the people of Little Rock what he termed a legal plan for private, segregated schools and asked them to vote for segregated classes.

In Virginia, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. closed white schools as rapidly as the courts ordered them to admit Negroes.

An attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said he will go into court if necessary to get a group of Negro children into a white elementary school at Miami, Fla.

Faubus said approval of segregated classes in the Sept. 27 special referendum will make the school facilities surplus property. The School Board can then lease them to private agencies and he urged them to do so. One such agency has already been chartered.

The plan depends heavily on the special election which some lawyers say has no legal significance because of the Supreme Court order to integrate immediately.

The Little Rock School Board, meanwhile, arranged for informal televised classes to begin Monday. School officials have not decided what credit may be given for such work.

Almond closed two schools at Charlottesville, Va., under a state law which automatically halts classes wherever integration is ordered. The white high school at Front Royal was closed last week.

The Warren County (Front Royal) Parent-Teachers Assn. vetoed a move to reopen the school without state funds. The PTA named a committee to make plans for interim pupil instruction.

The School Board at Norfolk decides today whether to keep six schools closed temporarily while seeking a plan to bar their indefinite closure under Virginia's anti-integration laws. A federal judge overruled a state court injunction.

G. E. Graves, an NAACP attorney at Miami, said he will appeal to the County School Board and the Florida State School Board if necessary to win admittance of some Negroes to a white school at Miami. Failing there, he said he will take the case to th Circuit Court at Tallahassee. The county board has rejected applications from 14 Negro children to attend the school.

The Democratic National Committee blamed President Eisenhower for the crisis in school integration. In a Democratic Fact Book the party said if the President had used the moral authority of his office to promote orderly integration the "school-opening crises of these last years could have been avoided."

Ferry Sinks In Collision With Ore Boat

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Her decks awash, the 52-year-old railroad car ferry Ashtabula—victim of a collision in the harbor here—rests in 27 feet of water today while shipping officials plan ways to re float her.

She is several hundred feet from the shore side of the lighthouse and not far from the breakwater

That was where the inbound ferry and the outbound ore freighter Bon Moreell of Wilson Transit Co. collided in the dark Thursday night.

There were 42 men aboard the ferry, and two crash boats of the Coast Guard took them off without difficulty. The 338-foot vessel, suffering a big dent about 30 feet from the bow, settled in about half an hour.

The Moreell, a 580 - foot bulk freighter with a gross tonnage of 8,299 and a carrying capacity of 13,300 tons, suffered a five-foot hole in her bow above the water line, but never was in any danger. The vessel returned and tied up at the Coast Guard pier.

Capt. Louis Sabo, skipper of the ferry, said, "It was dark and hard to see," but could give no other reason for the collision.

The ferry shuttles back and forth across Lake Erie, carrying railroad cars and general merchandise. There were some empty freight cars aboard Thursday night.

Review Newsprint Lost In Lake Sinking

Some $4,000 worth of newsprint destined for the Review was lost in the sinking of the Ashtabula ferry following the collision Thursday night.

Over 30 tons of paper rolls were on a freight car among several such cars on the ferry. The paper was being shipped by the St. Lawrence Sales Co. and the Review will file a claim for the loss.

Murder Case May Be Given Jurors Today

Closing Arguments Start; Psychiatrist Terms Schuck Sane

Closing arguments began shortly after noon in Arthur G. Schuck's murder trial at Beaver with indications it may go to the jury late this afternoon.

Judge Morgan H. Sohn of Beaver County Court prepared instructions for the panel after the forenoon session ended with the defense resting. The state rested Thursday.

Closing testimony included that of Dr. Walter Jacob, Pittsburgh psychiatrist, who said the Baden machinist accused of the ambush slaying of two men April 27 is not insane but is "anti-social and a psychopath."

Schuck testified in his own defense yesterday that he was so drunk he could not remember what happened the night of the murders.

William E. Engel, 44, and Vincent J. Quigley, 34, were killed with a rifle from ambush on Ann St., Economy. Engel's fiancee, Miss Angeline Pugliano, was wounded.

The state contends Schuck, 42, thought he was shooting Mrs. Rose Ragozine, his mistress, and her husband, Edward. Both Engel's and Ragozine's cars are brown.

Before the state rested, Prosecutor Joseph Walko presented two other witnesses, Schuck's wife, Mary, and his mother, Mrs. Ida Mae Schuck.

Defense Atty. A. G. Helbling asked Schuck if he could remember firing the shots and Schuck replied in the negative.

Miss Pugliano testified earlier in the trial that she saw Schuck's

Mrs. Guy Garwood of Avondale St. and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Eisenhuth of Erie St. were among district residents who reported snow flakes among the intermittened drizzle yesterday afternoon.

Some children in the East End and some in Salineville also said they saw snow flakes, despite yesterday afternoon's temperature of 65 degrees.

"Rains easy, gutters busy, winds and foggy, time for a toddy," is the mid - September prediction of the Old Farmers Almanac, and snow isn't slated until November. October often has flurries.

Mrs. Garwood said she saw flakes between 2 and 3 p. m., followed by a fine snow. She said it only lasted about 10 minutes, and melted upon contact with the ground.

The mercury had reached the day's high of 65 at the time of the sighting, according to attendants at Dam 8, who said it may have been fine hail from high altitudes.

The overnight low was 55 degrees, so the temperatures the past 24 hours were far above the freezing mark of 32 when snow usually develops. Yesterday's precipitation was 0.05 inch.

UN Showdown Set On Seating Of Red China

Pressure Applied By U.S. And India After Postponement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The General Assembly's Steering Committee headed for a showdown vote today on whether to schedule a bitter debate on Red China's claim to a voice in the U.N.

But a group of smaller powers was reported trying to head off the discussion for now to avoid jarring the atmosphere surrounding the Warsaw talks between the United States and Communist China.

Pressure for an early Steering Committee vote came from the United States and India after Assembly President Charles Malik had postponed the question twice in as many days.

The United States, angered over the repeated delays, was confident the U.N. would follow past procedure and vote to shelve the issue for another year.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was described as shocked by the postponements. A U.S. spokesman said: "We want a vote and we want it now."

The spokesman said the United States did not want to duck debate in the full Assembly by letting the question get bottled up in the Steering Committee.

India's Delegate Arthur S. Lall also said he did not intend to be talked out of pressing his request to give the Peiping government a seat in the U.N. "We are going ahead," he said.

For several years neutralist India has supported Red Chinese claims to a U.N. seat. This year the Soviet press and radio has been laying the groundwork for India's diplomatic move with claims that the Formosa crisis pointed up Peiping's absence from the world forum.

Informed sources said the move to dissuade the United States and India from pressing their rival proposals to a vote came from Ireland, Australia, Canada and Ceylon.

Their move was based on the theory that if the committee votes at all, its report would automatically go to the 81-nation Assembly and touch off fierce public debate over Communist China in the middle of the Warsaw talks on the Formosa Strait crisis.

25 Wait Arraignment Monday In Indictments

An East End man and one from Negley charged with sexual offenses in secret indictments by the September Grand Jury, will be among 25 slated for arraignment Monday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond Buzzard at Lisbon.

Raymond Landfried, 23, of 1169 Erie St. and Wayne Campbell, 20, of Negley were charged with carnal knowledge of a minor female.

Two other secret indictments have not yet been served, according to Sheriff Russell VanFossan, who said one defendant is at Lima State Hospital and the other has not been located.

Criminal trials will begin Sept. 29.

U.S. Official Wounded By Cyprus Youth

Shot By Gunman Who May Have Been Firing At Briton

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — U.S. Vice Consul John Page Wentworth was in dangerous condition today with three bullet wounds inflicted by a young gunman who may have believed he was shooting a Briton.

The gunman fired over the garden fence as Wentworth stood behind his home Thursday night. The 33-year-old diplomat had just been romping with his 3-year-old daughter Caroline. He was hit twice in the stomach and once in the leg.

He was taken to the British military hospital, where his condition was listed as dangerous. The gunman escaped.

After an operation, Wentworth's condition was described as slightly better today.

Troops and police were out in force stopping traffic, checking identities and carrying out searches for the gunman.

Outside the Wentworth home, investigators on hands and knees made a minute search for spent cartridges and other clues.

The American vice consul was one of four men wounded in short period of violence in Nicosia Thursday.

About the same time a British airman was slightly wounded by a gunman a couple of blocks away and two Turkish Cypriot policemen also were wounded.

Offers Legal Plan

Vote Segregation, Gov. Faubus Asks

By The Associated Press

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas Thursday night offered the people of Little Rock what he termed a legal plan for private, segregated schools and asked them to vote for segregated classes.

In Virginia, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. closed white schools as rapidly as the courts ordered them to admit Negroes.

An attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said he will go into court if necessary to get a group of Negro children into a white elementary school at Miami, Fla.

Faubus said approval of segregated classes in the Sept. 27 special referendum will make the school facilities surplus property. The School Board can then lease them to private agencies and he urged them to do so. One such agency has already been chartered.

The plan depends heavily on the special election which some lawyers say has no legal significance because of the Supreme Court order to integrate immediately.

The Little Rock School Board, meanwhile, arranged for informal televised classes to begin Monday. School officials have not decided what credit may be given for such work.

Almond closed two schools at Charlottesville, Va., under a state law which automatically halts classes wherever integration is ordered. The white high school at Front Royal was closed last week.

The Warren County (Front Royal) Parent-Teachers Assn. vetoed a move to reopen the school without state funds. The PTA named a committee to make plans for interim pupil instruction.

The School Board at Norfolk decides today whether to keep six schools closed temporarily while seeking a plan to bar their indefinite closure under Virginia's anti-integration laws. A federal judge overruled a state court injunction.

G. E. Graves, an NAACP attorney at Miami, said he will appeal to the County School Board and the Florida State School Board if necessary to win admittance of some Negroes to a white school at Miami. Failing there, he said he will take the case to th Circuit Court at Tallahassee. The county board has rejected applications from 14 Negro children to attend the school.

The Democratic National Committee blamed President Eisenhower for the crisis in school integration. In a Democratic Fact Book the party said if the President had used the moral authority of his office to promote orderly integration the "school-opening crises of these last years could have been avoided."

Ferry Sinks In Collision With Ore Boat

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Her decks awash, the 52-year-old railroad car ferry Ashtabula—victim of a collision in the harbor here—rests in 27 feet of water today while shipping officials plan ways to re float her.

She is several hundred feet from the shore side of the lighthouse and not far from the breakwater

That was where the inbound ferry and the outbound ore freighter Bon Moreell of Wilson Transit Co. collided in the dark Thursday night.

There were 42 men aboard the ferry, and two crash boats of the Coast Guard took them off without difficulty. The 338-foot vessel, suffering a big dent about 30 feet from the bow, settled in about half an hour.

The Moreell, a 580 - foot bulk freighter with a gross tonnage of 8,299 and a carrying capacity of 13,300 tons, suffered a five-foot hole in her bow above the water line, but never was in any danger. The vessel returned and tied up at the Coast Guard pier.

Capt. Louis Sabo, skipper of the ferry, said, "It was dark and hard to see," but could give no other reason for the collision.

The ferry shuttles back and forth across Lake Erie, carrying railroad cars and general merchandise. There were some empty freight cars aboard Thursday night.

Review Newsprint Lost In Lake Sinking

Some $4,000 worth of newsprint destined for the Review was lost in the sinking of the Ashtabula ferry following the collision Thursday night.

Over 30 tons of paper rolls were on a freight car among several such cars on the ferry. The paper was being shipped by the St. Lawrence Sales Co. and the Review will file a claim for the loss.

Murder Case May Be Given Jurors Today

Closing Arguments Start; Psychiatrist Terms Schuck Sane

Closing arguments began shortly after noon in Arthur G. Schuck's murder trial at Beaver with indications it may go to the jury late this afternoon.

Judge Morgan H. Sohn of Beaver County Court prepared instructions for the panel after the forenoon session ended with the defense resting. The state rested Thursday.

Closing testimony included that of Dr. Walter Jacob, Pittsburgh psychiatrist, who said the Baden machinist accused of the ambush slaying of two men April 27 is not insane but is "anti-social and a psychopath."

Schuck testified in his own defense yesterday that he was so drunk he could not remember what happened the night of the murders.

William E. Engel, 44, and Vincent J. Quigley, 34, were killed with a rifle from ambush on Ann St., Economy. Engel's fiancee, Miss Angeline Pugliano, was wounded.

The state contends Schuck, 42, thought he was shooting Mrs. Rose Ragozine, his mistress, and her husband, Edward. Both Engel's and Ragozine's cars are brown.

Before the state rested, Prosecutor Joseph Walko presented two other witnesses, Schuck's wife, Mary, and his mother, Mrs. Ida Mae Schuck.

Defense Atty. A. G. Helbling asked Schuck if he could remember firing the shots and Schuck replied in the negative.

Miss Pugliano testified earlier in the trial that she saw Schuck's

Husband Still Missing After Murder Of Wife

Freedom police said today there are "no further developments" in the death of Mrs. Sarah Scott, 21, mother of seven, who was killed by a shotgun blast early Thursday morning.

Police are continuing their search for the husband, Frank Scott, 26, whose car was found abandoned on the Monaca Bridge at about 3:18 a. m. Thursday.

Finding of the car led police to the Scott's two-story apartment, where Mrs. Scott was found with the back of her head blown off.

Utility Begins New Pipe Line

Gas Firm's Project Will Cost $300,000

The Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. today broke ground for a $300,000 pipeline to make more gas available to Toronto, Empire and the Wellsville area.

The 12-inch line will parallel the Ohio River about five miles, running north from Toronto to Empire, W. T. McIntyre, area manager, said. It replaces a smaller line.

Current gas shipments into this area hit a bottleneck because of the smaller line in this five-mile stretch, he said.

"Aided by alternate supply routes into each community, this Ohio supply line will enable us to move ample supplies into Ohio towns to meet peak cold weather demands," McIntyre said.

Supervised by Manufacturers' division superintendent, T. E. Ridge, and his staff, the pipeline will be built by Otis Eastern Service, Inc., of Bolivar, N. Y. Target date for completion is the end of November.

A key project in itself, the new Toronto-Empire line will be more valuable as the result of substantial investments Manufacturers made earlier to expand and enlarge its complex pipeline and storage network.

Some $900,000 has gone into new pipelines from Wellsburg north to Weirton, across the river and up to Toronto. This construction laid the groundwork for moving more gas into the Toronto, Empire and Wellsville areas through the pipeline now under construction.

As a result of this recent improvement, Manufacturers has retired its compressor at Empire.

The present Toronto-Empire line runs along Route 7. The new line will parallel the highway west of the road. Market lines will be laid east from the new stretch of pipe to move gas into delivery lines north and south of Toronto.

This project is another phase of Manufacturers' long-range service improvement program in the Tri-State area with over $25 million being invested this year, he added.

2 City Men Fined $200 In Girl's Delinquency

Two East Liverpool men were fined and given suspended sentences Thursday afternoon by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old city girl.

Frank (Hank) Duncan, 23, of East End and Robert Thomas Harding, 19, of 1011 May St. each were fined $200. Duncan was sentenced to a year and Harding to 6 months in the County Jail. Judge Tobin suspended the sentences on good behavior and placed both on 8 p. m. curfew for four months. They must report to the juvenile officer each week.

Duncan pleaded guilty and Harding was convicted after pleading innocent.

Researcher Says A-Fall-Out Won't Produce Bone Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A woman researcher says tests on mice show that the present fall-out from nuclear weapons tests will not produce a single case of bone cancer or leukemia in humans.

The report of the researcher, Miriam P. Finkel, was carried Thursday in Science Magazine. Miss Finkel conducted her tests at the Argonne National Laboratory, operated in Lemont, Ill., by the University of Chicago under contract to the Atomic Energy Commission.

In her experiment, varying degrees of strontium-90 were injected into 810 mice. An additional 150 mice received no injection. The results, he said, indicated no damage to the injected mice.

Strontium-90 is a dangerous component of fall out which is deposited in bone. It remains there always, exposing the person to constant radiation.

A report issued Aug. 10 by the United Nations Scientific Committee on the effects of atomic radiation said as many as 2,000 persons a year might contract leukemia (cancer of the blood) as a result of radioactive fall-out.

Miss Finkel writes that strontium-90 probably is 7 to 14 times more harmful to man than to mice because of his greater size.

But she estimated that the minimum dose for man is so much higher than present fall-out levels "that it is extremely unlikely to induce even one bone tumor or one case of leukemia."

DiSalle To Speak At City Democrat Luncheon Oct. 11

Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic nominee for governor, will be principal speaker at a luncheon Oct. 11 at the Travelers Hotel, Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, announced today.

The noon event will honor county candidates, and will be sponsored by the county central and executive committees, along with the East Liverpool Democrat Club.

County candidates will be presented tokens of appreciation for their willingness to serve as public officials. DiSalle will arrive here from Youngstown, where he plans to launch his Mahoning County campaign.

A large delegation will attend testimonial dinner at Bellaire that night for Rep. Wayne L. Hays, Gosney said. Larry Finlay is ticket chairman for the dinner.

The central and executive committees will meet Wednesday night at 8 at the Lisbon Village Hall to make plans for the final month of campaigning for the Nov. 4 election, Gosney said.

Mrs. Kay Blackburn of Columbiana, county chairwoman, is expected to announce the date and site of a countywide Democratic dinner to be sponsored by the party women's clubs.

Gosney said the committee will adopt a platform which will include a stand on obtaining surplus food for the county's needy.

Utility Begins New Pipe Line

Gas Firm's Project Will Cost $300,000

The Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. today broke ground for a $300,000 pipeline to make more gas available to Toronto, Empire and the Wellsville area.

The 12-inch line will parallel the Ohio River about five miles, running north from Toronto to Empire, W. T. McIntyre, area manager, said. It replaces a smaller line.

Current gas shipments into this area hit a bottleneck because of the smaller line in this five-mile stretch, he said.

"Aided by alternate supply routes into each community, this Ohio supply line will enable us to move ample supplies into Ohio towns to meet peak cold weather demands," McIntyre said.

Supervised by Manufacturers' division superintendent, T. E. Ridge, and his staff, the pipeline will be built by Otis Eastern Service, Inc., of Bolivar, N. Y. Target date for completion is the end of November.

A key project in itself, the new Toronto-Empire line will be more valuable as the result of substantial investments Manufacturers made earlier to expand and enlarge its complex pipeline and storage network.

Some $900,000 has gone into new pipelines from Wellsburg north to Weirton, across the river and up to Toronto. This construction laid the groundwork for moving more gas into the Toronto, Empire and Wellsville areas through the pipeline now under construction.

As a result of this recent improvement, Manufacturers has retired its compressor at Empire.

The present Toronto-Empire line runs along Route 7. The new line will parallel the highway west of the road. Market lines will be laid east from the new stretch of pipe to move gas into delivery lines north and south of Toronto.

This project is another phase of Manufacturers' long-range service improvement program in the Tri-State area with over $25 million being invested this year, he added.

2 City Men Fined $200 In Girl's Delinquency

Two East Liverpool men were fined and given suspended sentences Thursday afternoon by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old city girl.

Frank (Hank) Duncan, 23, of East End and Robert Thomas Harding, 19, of 1011 May St. each were fined $200. Duncan was sentenced to a year and Harding to 6 months in the County Jail. Judge Tobin suspended the sentences on good behavior and placed both on 8 p. m. curfew for four months. They must report to the juvenile officer each week.

Duncan pleaded guilty and Harding was convicted after pleading innocent.

Researcher Says A-Fall-Out Won't Produce Bone Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A woman researcher says tests on mice show that the present fall-out from nuclear weapons tests will not produce a single case of bone cancer or leukemia in humans.

The report of the researcher, Miriam P. Finkel, was carried Thursday in Science Magazine. Miss Finkel conducted her tests at the Argonne National Laboratory, operated in Lemont, Ill., by the University of Chicago under contract to the Atomic Energy Commission.

In her experiment, varying degrees of strontium-90 were injected into 810 mice. An additional 150 mice received no injection. The results, he said, indicated no damage to the injected mice.

Strontium-90 is a dangerous component of fall out which is deposited in bone. It remains there always, exposing the person to constant radiation.

A report issued Aug. 10 by the United Nations Scientific Committee on the effects of atomic radiation said as many as 2,000 persons a year might contract leukemia (cancer of the blood) as a result of radioactive fall-out.

Miss Finkel writes that strontium-90 probably is 7 to 14 times more harmful to man than to mice because of his greater size.

But she estimated that the minimum dose for man is so much higher than present fall-out levels "that it is extremely unlikely to induce even one bone tumor or one case of leukemia."

DiSalle To Speak At City Democrat Luncheon Oct. 11

Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic nominee for governor, will be principal speak at a luncheon Oct. 11 at the Travelers Hotel, Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, announced today.

The noon event will honor county candidates, and will be sponsored by the county central and executive committees, along with the East Liverpool Democrat Club.

County candidates will be presented tokens of appreciation for their willingness to serve as public officials. DiSalle will arrive here from Youngstown, where he plans to launch his Mahoning County campaign.

A large delegation will attend testimonial dinner at Bellaire that night for Rep. Wayne L. Hays, Gosney said. Larry Finlay is ticket chairman for the dinner.

The central and executive committees will meet Wednesday night at 8 at the Lisbon Village Hall to make plans for the final month of campaigning for the Nov. 4 election, Gosney said.

Mrs. Kay Blackburn of Columbiana, county chairwoman, is expected to announce the date and site of a countywide Democratic dinner to be sponsored by the party women's clubs.

Gosney said the committee will adopt a platform which will include a stand on obtaining surplus food for the county's needy.

Thief Takes 2 Radios From Parked City Car

An auto radio and a portable radio were stolen from the auto of Embro J. Adams, 821 State St., while it was parked in front of his home between 4 p. m. Thursday and 4:30 a. m. today, the owner told police.

Meanwhile, E. H. West, 415 MacLain Rd., Wellsville, told police today a tire on his auto was slashed and a window broken while it was parked on E. 4th St. sometime in August.

Board To Tour Sewage Plant

Health Group Hears Reports At Meeting

The Board of Health Thursday night instructed Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, to arrange for an inspection by the board of the city's new sewage disposal plant which is in partial operation.

Miss Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported there were 135 births here in the period of Aug. 21-Sept. 18. There were 87 girls and 48 boys of which 73 were born to East Liverpool parents, 17 to Midland, 13 to Chester, 9 to Industry and 5 to Newell and the remainder in scattered areas.

During the same period 36 deaths were reported — 20 adult males, 13 adult females and 3 infants.

Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, nurse, reported she made 22 guidance visits, 10 therapy visits and 6 auxiliary visits. Two cases were admitted to TB control during the past month and there were four crippled children's cases and three morbity cases.

Septimus Cook and John D. Owens, sanitarians, said they answered 53 complaints and made 218 inspections and investigations.

The Sanitarians reported inspections of 8 restaurants, 5 taverns, 5 grocery and meat markets, 3 bakeries, 29 dairy farms and 4 bottling plants and 23 milk samples were collected for analysis.

Cook reported on the Ohio Health Commissioners' Association sessions he attended in Columbus Sept. 10-12.

The next meeting is Oct. 16.

College On Monthly Payments

As the new college year bursts into full bloom, parents are becoming more painfully aware than ever before of a significant discrepancy between two aspects of higher education.

From the standpoint of career qualification and future security, a college education moves higher and higher on the list of life's necessities. To those who have to pay for one, however, it remains way up on the list of life's luxuries.

The average cost of a year at college today stands at about $1,500 at a public institution and $2,000 in a private school — double the 1940 price tag. This doesn't allow for many frills, either, because most of the student's budget problems are the same as his family's at home: higher living costs. To balance his books on that appropriation, he generally accepts something less than the best housing and dining facilities, keeps his entertainment and clothing expenses to a minimum, and forgets about following the athletic teams to out-of-town games. Even the wealthy student who can indulge his appetite for "extras" doesn't have to exert himself to drop $5,000 or more during a school year.

For parents whose little ones are in the lower grades of elementary school, there is still more sobering news. Most experts believe that higher education costs will probably treble in 10 years. One report says they will probably do better than that, soaring from a total three billion dollars a year now to 11 billion as 1970 approaches.

Yet the increasing demand for well trained people in all walks of life will in the same period widen that gap between the necessity and the luxury of advanced schooling.

A Harvard economist proposes that the most promising and most practical way to close the gap is credit financing. In the rapid assimilation of credit buying into the American way of life, he says, it has been virtually untapped as a way to acquire an education. He feels it is "incomprehensible" that the nation has an average family debt of $3,000 for durable goods but an average college-student debt of only $20, especially if an education is viewed as the most productive of all commodities.

The plan would combine savings during the pre-college period of a person's life to accumulate a sort of "down payment" on his advanced education and the post-college repayment of his debt out of the increased income he can expect as the holder of a degree.

Thus, the expert says, colleges and universities should move into the field of credit financing as aggressively as more and more sellers of goods and services do. It is possible, he points out, to take a trip around the world on the installment plan. Why not a trip to college?

Inflation Still Creeps Up

The new contract agreed on by the Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers will have a stabilizing effect on the national economy because it extends for three years, but it presages further creeping inflation.

The chances are that General Motors and Chrysler, the other big members of one of America's biggest industries, will reach agreements with the UAW with little trouble now that the way has been paved at Ford. Thus fears have been allayed that the auto industry would be tied up at a crucial point in the steady rise of the economic chart out of the 1957-58 recession. How automobiles fare might be the key to how far the nation surges forward toward prosperity.

Bargainers on both sides of the fence at the conclusion of the Ford agreement recognized the big stake the nation as a whole has in the negotiations when they said in a joint statement that they believe the contract is "fair to the workers, the company and the American public."

Just how fair it is to the public remains to be seen. The new agreement provides for wage increases of at least 6 cents an hour during each of the contract's three years. It adds other costs in such items as supplemental unemployment benefits, shift differentials, Saturday premium pay, insurance and hospitalization.

No one begrudges the auto workers more pay, but the new contract cannot help but result in price increases for automobiles. It will be interesting to see how much these will be— and whether they curb the sale of autos. If prices are so high that sales are below normal, the whole economy could be affected.

Inflation is an insidious monster that is not always recognized in time by the public. It ultimately steals in high prices from the pocketbooks of wage earners, taxpayers, pensioners and stockholders alike.

Encouraging Note

The city of Wheeling's success should prove encouraging to those pressing the Urban Renewal program here.

The federal government at Washington this week granted the Wheeling Urban Renewal Authority $1,094,000 with which to launch its project. This was $310,000 more than sought in the final plan submitted by the authority.

Thirteen acres of blighted section of Wheeling will be redeveloped under the project, with the relocation of 287 families now residing in the area. The Wheeling Housing Authority will assist in the relocation of the families, 163 of whom are eligible for low-rent housing.

Under Urban Renewal programs, the federal government pays two-thirds of the cost and municipalities the remaining one-third. Wheeling will place a special three-year levy on the ballot in the Nov. 4 general election in an effort to raise more than $400,000 to go with the Washington grant.

East Liverpool's program is in the first stages, with work now under way on the official plan necessary before a community can be considered for a government grant.

Urban Renewal is a long-range objective, but it is another phase of planning that goes with development.

A Check Is In Order

Rumors are flying again about Club 30, which in the past has been a most legitimately-operated restaurant and a most illegitimate gambling casino.

The building which formerly housed the operation now lies empty and idle off U.S. Route 30, near Chester. The latest gossip is that the club has moved into a new location not far away.

Rumors often are just that, but so frequently in Hancock County where there has been smoke there has been fire.

If the club has reopened, it would seem advisable that the West Virginia State Police determine whether the catering is being done to the dinner table or the roulette table.

And on past records, it will be up to the state police to do the investigating rather than the county authorities.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Visiting Soviet scientists and engineers were taken to an American racetrack. Probably in the belief more Americans could be seen "shooting at the moon" at such places than anywhere on the earth. They were shown the outer-space launching pads (or mutuels windows), and carefully explained to how thousands of people, few of them scientists, make it part of their daily life to take off into upper regions in the hope of realizing the dream of the ages.

"They seem so unworried," said a Soviet member. "Don't they realize the danger of shooting for the moon?" "They see no danger at this stage and become conscious of the peril only at the ticket-tearing stage," it was explained. "Does this phase come early?" he asked. "No, they must first go through the hope phase, the suspense stage and the official photo phase," he was told.

Q. How do they get back to earth?

A. Horse players never realize they have to get back.

Q. But how is their safe descent made?

A. By automatic ejector, in the form of the official result board. They are hurled from the spaceship when a gadget known as the official "resultorium" makes contact with the panic button or wrong ticket.

Q. Do they carry protective equipment?

A. Just reserve aspirin, a set of earplugs and a fibre hood made of discarded tips. The earplugs protect them from last-minute hunches.

Q. What about the fibre hood?

A. It makes 'em immune to sign language.

Q. How about oxygen?

A. No horse addict will take oxygen unless he gets 1 to 1 or better on it.

"Look! There's a fan up there who seems to be in orbit," the Russin said, gazing at an upper box. "How did he do it?"

We explained that the fellow had picked a winner but had been switched to a loser at the last minute.

"WAGON TRAIN," says Joe E. Lewis, can't make a move without Jimmy Hoffa. But "Round Table" in the United Nations Handicap had so much weight piled on him he could have appealed to Security Council.

Dag Hammarskjold is back from Middle East peace mission but the U.N. will refuse him pardon and continue his term at hard labor.

Russia's Mikoyan (the real Mikoyan) appeared on "Youth Wants to Know" and proved that on a Soviet quiz show there is never any doubt who wins it.

Pravda denounces padding expense accounts in business and says businessmen who go to conventions spend most of time in theaters, movies, sports events and in art galleries. Any delegates to a business convention who is found in an art gallery is either lost or has heard a report his wife is checking on him.

HOW COME SO MANY sweetie-boy types pouring songs into American living rooms about love that shall never die seem to cut their wives and kiddies off with such short-time affection? It's getting so you can't listen to a lad loudly crooning in the "as-we-grow-old-dear-together" pattern without asking, I wonder if he can stand his wife much longer; they've endured each other almost a year."

We were checking on some notable show-world ever-smiling lads dedicating their vocal and only gal, and were dumbfounded by the number involved in minimum endurance for chords to long distance devotion to the one-home life.

It is base deception and a poor way to treat fans sitting around home and fireside murmuring, "Ain't he just the sweetest thing."

Song entertainers should in all fairness follow their love ditties with the lines "While the statements here are from reliable sources, they are not guaranteed. For complete data ask for the prospectus and watch your newspapers."

An Approaching Eclipse

The Republicans Look To Jim Mitchell

By Victor Riesel

ATLANTIC CITY

A prelude in major politics was played here across the stage of the giant Steel Workers' convention — amid booing, hissing and jeering of President Eisenhower and his spokesman, U.S. Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell.

Victor Riesel

In this advance showing of what's to come in the presidential drama of 1960, there seemed little doubt that the hissing was touched off by organized catcalling squads on the floor of this vast convention mosque.

The cat-calling claque got their signals mixed. They knew they were to boo the mention of Republicans — and especially the President of the United States. But they booed Jim Mitchell long before he said anything. The hooting started as he stepped onto the platform.

Mr. Mitchell's plane had been delayed when massive squadrons of sea gulls captured the Atlantic City airport and refused to get off the runway. His timetable was therefore slightly disrupted.

As the labor secretary waited to take the microphone, the whooperuppers started on him until their president, Dave McDonald, told them, in effect, that this was one Republican they should not boo.

MR. MITCHELL had been of great help to the union and was considered a friend of labor.

The crowd went silent. In amazement, the 3,200 delegates to the United Steelworkers' ninth convention heard their cause championed. When Jim Mitchell finished, their applause shook the concrete rafters. To observers the applause was roaring confirmation of what political insiders were saying of Jim Mitchell — that some of the highest Republican leaders think him a natural candidate for the vice-presidential nomination on the 1960 Republican ticket.

These insiders have been saying that no GOP ticket containing Mr. Mitchell could be considered anti-labor. Furthermore, he has wide rank-and-file labor support and contacts with such union leaders as Dave McDonald.

Mr. Mitchell's champions make the point that he is one of the most prominent Catholics in the GOP— and he would be the logical man to joust with Massachusetts' crusading Sen. John Kennedy if the racket - busting New Englander takes first or second spot in the Democratic ticket. Mr. Kennedy, too, is Catholic.

Mr. Mitchell's backers point to the recent Maine election as a sure sign of things-to-come in this fall campaigning — as well as the presidential race in 1960. In Maine, a small but hard-hitting labor political machine added scores of thousands of votes to the Democratic total. And there no longer is any doubt that the AFL-CIO national political machine, Committee on Political Education, has abandoned its nominal non-partisan attitude.

HERE, AMID thousands of pieces of political literature strewn on the convention tables and in the corridors, there is ample evidence of the early and bitter drive against President Eisenhower.

This political literature, falling like torn ticker tape over the nation as it did over the convention tables, is in the form of little booklets. One of them charges President Eisenhower and the Republicans with deliberately planning the recession to create millions of jobless.

This tract is called "They Planned It That Way." It's COPE Publication No. 36. There's another booklet, No. 44, which talks of political contributions to the GOP by America's 12 "big families."

Still another, No. 45, exploits the Bernard Goldfine case. In this one, the labor strategists created the phrase "The Eisenhower-Nixon-Adams Administration."

THERE IS NO DOUBT that the labor leaders have decided to hit President Eisenhower personally, directly and without any subtlety.

There is no doubt that in many districts the balance of power in the fall and presidential elections will be the rank-and-file vote of some 18 million union members. That's why these union convention platforms — and especially this big one — have been sought out by the brightest politicians in both parties.

Look at New Jersey's Gov. Robert Meyner, who couldn't find time to drive from Trenton to this city last December to greet the AFL-CIO national convention, a very controversial gathering. This year, he came in with a long political speech to the Steelworkers, attacking every Republican except Abraham Lincoln. And Harry Truman agreed to come not only because he knows the value of labor votes but because he is pushing his own candidate, Sen. Stuart Symington.

Jim Mitchell is considered one of the few Republicans who can neutralize this array—despite the cat-calling claques.

The Tenth We Owe

By Bert Wells

(Editor's Note: Some of T.T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him again this year. Today's essayist is an orchardist and the founder and honorary chairman of the board of an international organization specializing in church-fund promotions.)

Self-preservation is the strongest instinct in animal life, but man, the animal created with a soul in the likeness of his Maker, is possessed of another uncontrollable urge not evidenced in any lower organism.

He craves possession. He wants things. His wants are never satisfied. All his life man wants more and more.

Since so many human beings demand the same things, barter and trade have developed. Our material possessions have taken on value, and money usually is the accepted medium of exchange.

We must have money with which to buy the things we want. The quest and contest for money is related in some form to almost every activity in life.

We have homes, or are planning to have them. Few families are without an automobile; many have two or more. Hardly a home is without television. We buy everything — billions of dollars for cosmetics, drinks, tobacco — anything we want, we buy.

Our Uncle Sam is a fabulous, wasteful spender. States and cities join in the limitless outlay, and industry, keeping pace with individual and government wants, is expanding and spending. We have money for every want — and more.

But how about our churches?

In comparison to spending for individual, governmental and industrial wants, there is a negligible interest in spending for church expansion and maintenance. In the light of other financial indulgences, church support is a travesty.

We come back to the fact that man, who is the animal invested with a soul, the only creature assured of eternal life, is guilty of satisfying every want, yet neglects his church. He is seemingly indifferent as a whole to the use of his money as it relates to his spiritual life.

Most normal - minded humans are believers and, as such, most of them are members of some church. They accept the Bible as the Word of God, His guiding manual.

The First Commandment says: "Thou shalt have no other god before me."

We are taught that God must have love, obedience and humble, loyal followers. We also are taught that one-tenth of everyone's income shall be returned to the support and advancement of His kingdom on earth.

The Biblical term for our dues as believers is "tithe." It is made plain that this is what we owe God. Since there are other activities outside the church which also require support, some church groups are satisfied to have half the tithe go to thes upport of other than church benevolences. But a minimum half belongs to God, undeniably and emphatically.

Some devout followers pay more than the tithe. Some double it. Many are not satisifedt o give less than the full tenth, but a half-tithe is becoming the most generally accepted portion of individual income.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Laura Marshall and Mrs. Ina Griffith represented Beatrice Temple 21, Phythian Sisters, at the state convention in Cleveland.

Some 200 bankers and their wives from eight eastern Ohio counties attended the annual meeting of the Ohio Bankers Association at the East Liverpool Country Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Miss Betty Jane Bock of Ephriam St. entered her sophomore year at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea.

J. F. Swearinger, superintendent of the local schools, conducted the morning service in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — A Chamber of Commerce committee began preparing a map showing the location and advantages of 15 potential industrial sites in East Liverpool.

Court Equivocation

By David Lawrence

The 1896 'Separate But Equal' Case

One of the reasons why there is widespread resentment nowadays over several decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States is that there are so many instances in them of plain equivocation. This was underlined when Justice Frankfurter, in the hearing last week, had a colloquy with R. C. Butler, the attorney for the Little Rock School Board, on what the court really meant four years ago in brushing aside the famous 1896 case on "separate but equal" facilities as being concerned not with education but with transportation.

David Lawrence

Here are the exact words of the Supreme Court's 1954 decision on this point:

"The doctrine of 'separate but equal' did not make its appearance in this court until 1896 in the case of Plessy vs Ferguson, involving not education but transportation."

The average person would assume from this wording that nothing important had been said in the 1896 decision about education. Yet a reading of the opinion in that case — which was decided by a 7 to 1 vote, as one justice didn't participate — shows that the separate educational systems in vogue in the schools of many states at the time constituted the very basis for the ruling.

THE SUPREME COURT majority opinion in the Plessy vs. Ferguson case reads in part as follows:

"The object of the (14th) Amendment was undoubtedly to enforce the absolute equality of the two races before the law, but in the nature of things it could not have been intended to abolish distinctions based upon color, or to enforce social, as distinguished from political, equality, or a commingling of the two races upon terms unsatisfactory to either.

"Laws permitting, and even requiring their separation in places where they are liable to be brought into contact do not necessarily imply the inferiority of either race to the other, and have been generally, if not universally, recognized as within the competency of the State Legislatures in the exercise of their police power.

"The most common instance of this is connected with the establishment of separate schools for white and colored children, which have been held to be a valid exercise of the legislative power even by courts of states where the political rights of the colored race have been longest and most earnestly enforced."

The foregoing opinion was written about 30 years after the proclamation of the 14th Amendment.

The Supreme Court plainly recognized the validity of state court decisions on education and gave several citations in support of its legal position. Yet the 1954 decision of the Supreme Court and the remarks last week by Justice Frankfurter give the impression to the American people that education was not related vitally to the 1896 opinion.

Indeed, the Supreme Court in that case did not rely altogether on its own judgment.

IT QUOTED with approval from a decision of the highest court not of a Southern state but of New York State which, in upholding separate schools of equal quality of education, said with respect to social equality of the races:

"This end can neither be accomplished nor promoted by laws which conflict with the general sentiment of the community upon whom they are designed to operate. When the government, therefore, has secured to each of its citizens equal rights before the law and equal opportunities for improvement and progress, it has accomplished the end for which it is organized and performed all of the functions respecting social advantages with which it is endowed."

The present Supreme Court nevertheless in 1954 declared, in effect, that the Supreme Court in 1896 didn't understand human nature, and ruled that "whatever may have been the extent of psychological knowledge at the time of Plessy vs. Ferguson," it now must be rejected as not supported by "modern authority."

Was the Supreme Court in 1954 lacking in candor when it said that the 1896 case did not involve education but transportation, and when it made no comment on the part education really played in the reasoning on which the Plessy vs. Ferguson decision was based?

Steak For A Tiger

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Secretary of State Dulles is like a man gingerly shoving a piece of steak towards a tiger, only to have the tiger roar at him: "I said a big piece of steak."

He could have guessed it wasn't big enough for the Communist appetite when he proposed Thursday—in a mild speech at the United Nations—a cease-fire as a preliminary for bringing peace to the Formosa area.

The Red Chinese and Soviets both jumped him.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko let go at him with this: Only a complete U. S. military withdrawal from the entire Formosa area, including Formosa, would bring peace to the Far East.

This was bad enough. But it wasn't all. To still another idea put in circulation by American officials, but unofficially and perhaps as a trial balloon, a representative of America's ally, Chiang Kai-shek, said: "Nuts."

This was the idea that maybe, if the Red Chinese agreed to a cease - fire, some arrangement could be worked out to demilitarize Quemoy. That couldn't sit well with Chiang and probably wouldn't with the Red Chinese either.

Demilitarizing Quemoy would almost certainly require withdrawl of Chiang's troops back to the Formosa stronghold and thus mean the end of all his talk, and Nationalist hopes, of retaking the China mainland somday.

He'd hardly agree to this himself. He'd have to be pressured into it by the United States. But would the Red Chinese settle for the mere demilitarization of Quemoy which they claim as their own? Probably not.

Newsmen Thursday tackled Chiang's new ambassador to the United States, George Yeh. They asked about the demilitarization idea, and first got this answer: The Eisenhower administration "has not told us officially" about such a proposal.

But when asked what he himself thought of it, Yeh replied in un-Chinese language: "Demilitarization, I think is nuts."

All of which illustrates how the United States let Chiang get it into a box and slam the lid. Now it wants out. Explaining how it got in is easier than how it is to get out.

So, unless there is war, the jockeying, maneuvering, gum-beating and shooting will probably continue for quite awhile without any real answers at all.

Letters To The Editor

As a parent, I certainly agree with the Board of Education and Supt. Betts on our city returning to Standard Time Sept. 28. In fact, my opinion is shared by many other parents.

Why shouldn't our City Council take action on this requset? Any request for the welfare of our children should be considered. Instead of thinking of the city being in a turmoil, think of the little children being confused and frightened when awakened in the dark and sent out to school in the fog. What do parents say to a 6-year-old child when he is afraid to walk six blocks in a damp, cold fog? If the child can't see, how do you expect the motorist to see him?

If this action of extending Daylight Time four weeks had been put to a vote of the city, it would never have passed. In fact it should have been.

I think City Council should think a little more about the welfare of our many children before an accident happens and forces the issue.

In many areas of the country, it is the law, or at least a custom, to have a doctor and an ambulance on the field at every game.

The players are in the game, giving everything they can—as they are expected to do. The least that they (and their parents) can expect is adequate protection for their health. Having a doctor present for immediate professional care and an ambulance waiting, if needed, is not too much to be asked.

College On Monthly Payments

As the new college year bursts into full bloom, parents are becoming more painfully aware than ever before of a significant discrepancy between two aspects of higher education.

From the standpoint of career qualification and future security, a college education moves higher and higher on the list of life's necessities. To those who have to pay for one, however, it remains way up on the list of life's luxuries.

The average cost of a year at college today stands at about $1,500 at a public institution and $2,000 in a private school — double the 1940 price tag. This doesn't allow for many frills, either, because most of the student's budget problems are the same as his family's at home: higher living costs. To balance his books on that appropriation, he generally accepts something less than the best housing and dining facilities, keeps his entertainment and clothing expenses to a minimum, and forgets about following the athletic teams to out-of-town games. Even the wealthy student who can indulge his appetite for "extras" doesn't have to exert himself to drop $5,000 or more during a school year.

For parents whose little ones are in the lower grades of elementary school, there is still more sobering news. Most experts believe that higher education costs will probably treble in 10 years. One report says they will probably do better than that, soaring from a total three billion dollars a year now to 11 billion as 1970 approaches.

Yet the increasing demand for well trained people in all walks of life will in the same period widen that gap between the necessity and the luxury of advanced schooling.

A Harvard economist proposes that the most promising and most practical way to close the gap is credit financing. In the rapid assimilation of credit buying into the American way of life, he says, it has been virtually untapped as a way to acquire an education. He feels it is "incomprehensible" that the nation has an average family debt of $3,000 for durable goods but an average college-student debt of only $20, especially if an education is viewed as the most productive of all commodities.

The plan would combine savings during the pre-college period of a person's life to accumulate a sort of "down payment" on his advanced education and the post-college repayment of his debt out of the increased income he can expect as the holder of a degree.

Thus, the expert says, colleges and universities should move into the field of credit financing as aggressively as more and more sellers of goods and services do. It is possible, he points out, to take a trip around the world on the installment plan. Why not a trip to college?

Inflation Still Creeps Up

The new contract agreed on by the Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers will have a stabilizing effect on the national economy because it extends for three years, but it presages further creeping inflation.

The chances are that General Motors and Chrysler, the other big members of one of America's biggest industries, will reach agreements with the UAW with little trouble now that the way has been paved at Ford. Thus fears have been allayed that the auto industry would be tied up at a crucial point in the steady rise of the economic chart out of the 1957-58 recession. How automobiles fare might be the key to how far the nation surges forward toward prosperity.

Bargainers on both sides of the fence at the conclusion of the Ford agreement recognized the big stake the nation as a whole has in the negotiations when they said in a joint statement that they believe the contract is "fair to the workers, the company and the American public."

Just how fair it is to the public remains to be seen. The new agreement provides for wage increases of at least 6 cents an hour during each of the contract's three years. It adds other costs in such items as supplemental unemployment benefits, shift differentials, Saturday premium pay, insurance and hospitalization.

No one begrudges the auto workers more pay, but the new contract cannot help but result in price increases for automobiles. It will be interesting to see how much these will be—and whether they curb the sale of autos. If prices are so high that sales are below normal, the whole economy could be affected.

Inflation is an insidious monster that is not always recognized in time by the public. It ultimately steals in high prices from the pocketbooks of wage earners, taxpayers, pensioners and stockholders alike.

Encouraging Note

The city of Wheeling's success should prove encouraging to those pressing the Urban Renewal program here.

The federal government at Washington this week granted the Wheeling Urban Renewal Authority $1,094,000 with which to launch its project. This was $310,000 more than sought in the final plan submitted by the authority.

Thirteen acres of blighted section of Wheeling will be redeveloped under the project, with the relocation of 287 families now residing in the area. The Wheeling Housing Authority will assist in the relocation of the families, 163 of whom are eligible for low-rent housing.

Under Urban Renewal programs, the federal government pays two-thirds of the cost and municipalities the remaining one-third. Wheeling will place a special three-year levy on the ballot in the Nov. 4 general election in an effort to raise more than $400,000 to go with the Washington grant.

East Liverpool's program is in the first stages, with work now under way on the official plan necessary before a community can be considered for a government grant.

Urban Renewal is a long-range objective, but it is another phase of planning that goes with development.

A Check Is In Order

Rumors are flying again about Club 30, which in the past has been a most legitimately-operated restaurant and a most illegitimate gambling casino.

The building which formerly housed the operation now lies empty and idle off U.S. Route 30, near Chester. The latest gossip is that the club has moved into a new location not far away.

Rumors often are just that, but so frequently in Hancock County where there has been smoke there has been fire.

If the club has reopened, it would seem advisable that the West Virginia State Police determine whether the catering is being done to the dinner table or the roulette table.

And on past records, it will be up to the state police to do the investigating rather than the county authorities.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Visiting Soviet scientists and engineers were taken to an American racetrack. Probably in the belief more Americans could be seen "shooting at the moon" at such places than anywhere on the earth. They were shown the outer-space launching pads (or mutuels windows), and carefully explained to how thousands of people, few of them scientists, make it part of their daily life to take off into upper regions in the hope of realizing the dream of the ages.

"They seem so unworried," said a Soviet member. "Don't they realize the danger of shooting for the moon?" "They see no danger at this stage and become conscious of the peril only at the ticket-tearing stage," it was explained. "Does this phase come early?" he asked. "No, they must first go through the hope phase, the suspense stage and the official photo phase," he was told.

Q. How do they get back to earth?

A. Horse players never realize they have to get back.

Q. But how is their safe descent made?

A. By automatic ejector, in the form of the official result board. They are hurled from the spaceship when a gadget known as the official "resultorium" makes contact with the panic button or wrong ticket.

Q. Do they carry protective equipment?

A. Just reserve aspirin, a set of earplugs and a fibre hood made of discarded tips. The earplugs protect them from last-minute hunches.

Q. What about the fibre hood?

A. It makes 'em immune to sign language.

Q. How about oxygen?

A. No horse addict will take oxygen unless he gets 1 to 1 or better on it.

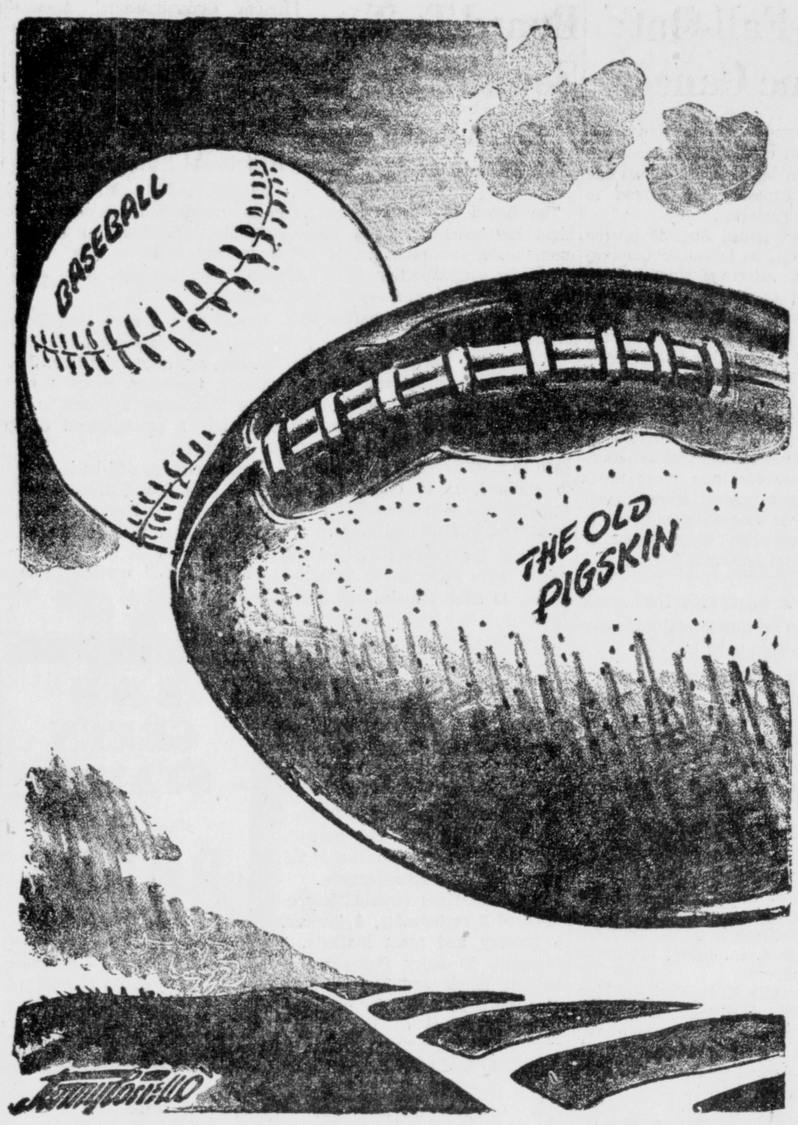
HOW COME SO MANY sweetie-boy types pouring songs into American living rooms about love that shall never die seem to cut their wives and kiddies off with such short-time affection? It's getting so you can't listen to a lad loudly crooning in the "as-we-grow-old-dear-together" pattern without asking, I wonder if he can stand his wife much longer; they've endured each other almost a year."

We were checking on some notable show-world ever-smiling lads dedicating their vocal and only gal, and were dumbfounded by the number involved in minimum endurance for chords to long distance devotion to the one-home life.

It is base deception and a poor way to treat fans sitting around home and fireside murmuring, "Ain't he just the sweetest thing."

Song entertainers should in all fairness follow their love ditties with the lines "While the statements here are from reliable sources, they are not guaranteed. For complete data ask for the prospectus and watch your newspapers."

An Approaching Eclipse



The Republicans Look To Jim Mitchell

By Victor Riesel

ATLANTIC CITY

A prelude in major politics was played here across the stage of the giant Steel Workers' convention — amid booing, hissing and jeering of President Eisenhower and his spokesman, U.S. Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell.

Victor Riesel

In this advance showing of what's to come in the presidential drama of 1960, there seemed little doubt that the hissing was touched off by organized catcalling squads on the floor of this vast convention mosque.

The cat-calling claque got their signals mixed. They knew they were to boo the mention of Republicans — and especially the President of the United States. But they booed Jim Mitchell long before he said anything. The hooting started as he stepped onto the platform.

Mr. Mitchell's plane had been delayed when massive squadrons of sea gulls captured the Atlantic City airport and refused to get off the runway. His timetable was therefore slightly disrupted.

As the labor secretary waited to take the microphone, the whooper-uppers started on him until their president, Dave McDonald, told them, in effect, that this was one Republican they should not boo.

MR. MITCHELL had been of great help to the union and was considered a friend of labor.

The crowd went silent. In amazement, the 3,200 delegates to the United Steelworkers' ninth convention heard their cause championed. When Jim Mitchell finished, their applause shook the concrete rafters. To observers the applause was roaring confirmation of what political insiders were saying of Jim Mitchell — that some of the highest Republican leaders think him a natural candidate for the vice-presidential nomination on the 1960 Republican ticket.

These insiders have been saying that no GOP ticket containing Mr. Mitchell could be considered anti-labor. Furthermore, he has wide rank-and-file labor support and contacts with such union leaders as Dave McDonald.

Mr. Mitchell's champions make the point that he is one of the most prominent Catholics in the GOP—and he would be the logical man to joust with Massachusetts' crusading Sen. John Kennedy if the racket-busting New Englander takes first or second spot in the Democratic ticket. Mr. Kennedy, too, is Catholic.

Mr. Mitchell's backers point to the recent Maine election as a sure sign of things-to-come in this fall campaigning — as well as the presidential race in 1960. In Maine, a small but hard-hitting labor political machine added scores of thousands of votes to the Democratic total. And there no longer is any doubt that the AFL-CIO national political machine, Committee on Political Education, has abandoned its nominal non-partisan attitude.

HERE, AMID thousands of pieces of political literature strewn on the convention tables and in the corridors, there is ample evidence of the early and bitter drive against President Eisenhower.

This political literature, falling like torn ticker tape over the nation as it did over the convention tables, is in the form of little booklets. One of them charges President Eisenhower and the Republicans with deliberately planning the recession to create millions of jobless.

This tract is called "They Planned It That Way." It's COPE Publication No. 36. There's another booklet, No. 44, which talks of political contributions to the GOP by America's 12 "big families."

Still another, No. 45, exploits the Bernard Goldfine case. In this one, the labor strategists created the phrase "The Eisenhower-Nixon-Adams Administration."

THERE IS NO DOUBT that the labor leaders have decided to hit President Eisenhower personally, directly and without any subtlety.

There is no doubt that in many districts the balance of power in the fall and presidential elections will be the rank-and-file vote of some 18 million union members. That's why these union convention platforms — and especially this big one — have been sought out by the brightest politicians in both parties.

Look at New Jersey's Gov. Robert Meyner, who couldn't find time to drive from Trenton to this city last December to greet the AFL-CIO national convention, a very controversial gathering. This year, he came in with a long political speech to the Steelworkers, attacking every Republican except Abraham Lincoln. And Harry Truman agreed to come not only because he knows the value of labor votes but because he is pushing his own candidate, Sen. Stuart Symington.

Jim Mitchell is considered one of the few Republicans who can neutralize this array—despite the cat-calling claques.

The Tenth We Owe

(Editor's Note: Some of T.T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him again this year. Today's essayist is an orchardist and the founder and honorary chairman of the board of an international organization specializing in church-fund promotions.)

Self-preservation is the strongest instinct in animal life, but man, the animal created with a soul in the likeness of his Maker, is possessed of another uncontrollable urge not evidenced in any lower organism.

He craves possession. He wants things. His wants are never satisfied. All his life man wants more and more.

Since so many human beings demand the same things, barter and trade have developed. Our material possessions have taken on value, and money usually is the accepted medium of exchange.

We must have money with which to buy the things we want. The quest and contest for money is related in some form to almost every activity in life.

We have homes, or are planning to have them. Few families are without an automobile; many have two or more. Hardly a home is without television. We buy everything — billions of dollars for cosmetics, drinks, tobacco — anything we want, we buy.

Our Uncle Sam is a fabulous, wasteful spender. States and cities join in the limitless outlay, and industry, keeping pace with individual and government wants, is expanding and spending. We have money for every want — and more.

But how about our churches?

In comparison to spending for individual, governmental and industrial wants, there is a negligible interest in spending for church expansion and maintenance. In the light of other financial indulgences, church support is a travesty.

We come back to the fact that man, who is the animal invested with a soul, the only creature assured of eternal life, is guilty of satisfying every want, yet neglects his church. He is seemingly indifferent as a whole to the use of his money as it relates to his spiritual life.

Most normal - minded humans are believers and, as such, most of them are members of some church. They accept the Bible as the Word of God, His guiding manual.

The First Commandment says: "Thou shalt have no other god before me."

We are taught that God must have love, obedience and humble, loyal followers. We also are taught that one-tenth of everyone's income shall be returned to the support and advancement of His kingdom on earth.

The Biblical term for our dues as believers is "tithe." It is made plain that this is what we owe God. Since there are other activities outside the church which also require support, some church groups are satisfied to have half the tithe go to thes upport of other than church benevolences. But a minimum half belongs to God, undeniably and emphatically.

Some devout followers pay more than the tithe. Some double it. Many are not satisifedt o give less than the full tenth, but a half-tithe is becoming the most generally accepted portion of individual income.

Court Equivocation

By David Lawrence

The 1896 'Separate But Equal' Case

One of the reasons why there is widespread resentment nowadays over several decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States is that there are so many instances in them of plain equivocation. This was underlined when Justice Frankfurter, in the hearing last week, had a colloquy with R. C. Butler, the attorney for the Little Rock School Board, on what the court really meant four years ago in brushing aside the famous 1896 case on "separate but equal" facilities as being concerned not with education but with transportation.

David Lawrence

Here are the exact words of the Supreme Court's 1954 decision on this point:

"The doctrine of 'separate but equal' did not make its appearance in this court until 1896 in the case of Plessy vs Ferguson, involving not education but transportation."

The average person would assume from this wording that nothing important had been said in the 1896 decision about education. Yet a reading of the opinion in that case — which was decided by a 7 to 1 vote, as one justice didn't participate — shows that the separate educational systems in vogue in the schools of many states at the time constituted the very basis for the ruling.

THE SUPREME COURT majority opinion in the Plessy vs. Ferguson case reads in part as follows:

"The object of the (14th) Amendment was undoubtedly to enforce the absolute equality of the two races before the law, but in the nature of things it could not have been intended to abolish distinctions based upon color, or to enforce social, as distinguished from political, equality, or a commingling of the two races upon terms unsatisfactory to either.

"Laws permitting, and even requiring their separation in places where they are liable to be brought into contact do not necessarily imply the inferiority of either race to the other, and have been generally, if not universally, recognized as within the competency of the State Legislatures in the exercise of their police power.

"The most common instance of this is connected with the establishment of separate schools for white and colored children, which have been held to be a valid exercise of the legislative power even by courts of states where the political rights of the colored race have been longest and most earnestly enforced."

The foregoing opinion was written about 30 years after the proclamation of the 14th Amendment.

The Supreme Court plainly recognized the validity of state court decisions on education and gave several citations in support of its legal position. Yet the 1954 decision of the Supreme Court and the remarks last week by Justice Frankfurter give the impression to the American people that education was not related vitally to the 1896 opinion.

Indeed, the Supreme Court in that case did not rely altogether on its own judgment.

First Of 'Town Hall' Meetings For Education Slated Monday

Teaching personnel and school district organization will be the two discussion topics at the first of two "Town Hall" meetings on educational problems Monday night at 7:30 in the library at Westgate School.

Edwin Maloney, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, will preside.

He emphasized anyone interested in education is urged to attend.

The nucleus of the group will be formed by committee members.

The entire group will meet for the first 20 minutes in the library and then divide into groups of not more than 10 each to study teaching personnel and district organization, Maloney explained.

After 35 minutes on each topic, the groups will reconvene to hear reports and recommendations from each discussion group.

The second educational conference is scheduled Oct. 14 at Westgate when the topics will be school finance and school program, Maloney said.

At the second meeting, the local group will elect 10 delegates to a State House Conference on Education Oct. 28 in Columbus.

Each school district is scheduled to conduct the meetings and the recommendations on each topic will be submitetd at the statewide conference.

The state committee then hopes to draw up recommendations to be submitted to the State Board of Education and State Legislature.

First Of 'Town Hall' Meetings For Education Slated Monday

Teaching personnel and school district organization will be the two discussion topics at the first of two "Town Hall" meetings on educational problems Monday night at 7:30 in the library at Westgate School.

Edwin Maloney, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, will preside.

He emphasized anyone interested in education is urged to attend.

The nucleus of the group will be formed by committee members.

The entire group will meet for the first 20 minutes in the library and then divide into groups of not more than 10 each to study teaching personnel and district organization, Maloney explained.

After 35 minutes on each topic, the groups will reconvene to hear reports and recommendations from each discussion group.

The second educational conference is scheduled Oct. 14 at Westgate when the topics will be school finance and school program, Maloney said.

At the second meeting, the local group will elect 10 delegates to a State House Conference on Education Oct. 28 in Columbus.

Each school district is scheduled to conduct the meetings and the recommendations on each topic will be submitetd at the statewide conference.

The state committee then hopes to draw up recommendations to be submitted to the State Board of Education and State Legislature.

Adams Issue Pops Up At Every Ike Parley

The question comes up at every Hagerty news conference these days. And Hagerty's answer always is the same—no, Sherman Adams has not resigned as President Eisenhower's chief aide.

Some Republicans have been demanding that Eisenhower get rid of Adams because of his relations with Boston industrialists Bernard Goldfine.

23rd Violation Brings Arrest Of City Driver

Police Send Warning To 200 Others For Holding Old Tickets

A man sought unsuccessfully for weeks by police, who wanted him for 22 traffic offenses, brought on his own arrest today when he tipped off his home address with a 23rd violation virtually on his own door step.

Roy Rachedy, 120 W. 4th St., drew a fine of $50 and $6 costs when he pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw on a warrant signed by Meter Maid Catherine Martin alleging he parked overtime on W. 4th St. May 25. The serial numbers of the other tickets were listed on the warrant.

Under ordinary circumstances Rachedy would have been in court long ago, as the department would have checked his license number and gone to his home with a warrant. But his car carried license H-972-E and a check with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Columbus showed it was issued to a Pete Rachedy of Burghill in Trumbull County.

But the city's Meter Maids knew Rachedy was living here at least temporarily—or visiting here very frequently—because of the number of violations chalked up against his car. They assumed his home was somewhere around 4th St., because that's where most of the violations were noted.

Despite the out-of-town address for the violator, Mrs. Martin went into Municipal Court Thursday and swore out a warrant for his arrest. Patrolman R. E. Higgins was carrying the warrant with him this morning when he spotted the auto with license H-972-E parked illegally in Peach Alley at W. 4th St.

He decided to canvass the neighborhood for Rachedy. At the first door where he knocked, he found the long-sought man.

To complicate matters, the car was registered in the name of Rachedy's father, Pete Rachedy. But that difficulty was overcome by changing the defendant's name on the warrant.

Police said Rachedy came here several months ago to operate a hearing aid business.

Judge Brokaw decreed that Rachedy's total penalty for the violations will be included in the $56. If he pays the usual $2 on each of the old tickets it will be deducted from the fine and costs, the judge said.

Rachedy pleaded guilty and offered no defense. The judge gave him an explanation of the parking meter ordinance, which provides a violation can be settled for $1 in the first 24 hours and for $2 after that.

Failure to pay the $2 penalty leaves the motorist liable to arrest on a warrant which means a fine plus court costs on conviction.

Meanwhile, Police Chief Americo Radeschi said summonses were mailed Thursday to 200 more drivers who have ignored parking tickets dating back to April.

If the violators pay promptly, the tickets can be settled for $2. If they delay, they will be haled into court on warrants, the chief warned.

Palestine Ministers Request Return To EST

EAST PALESTINE—A resolution calling on Council to authorize a return to Eastern Standard Time Sept. 28 "or as soon as possible afterward," was adopted in an emergency session of the Ministerial Association Thursday afternoon.

The resolution, stemming from a discussion at a regular meeting of the association Wednesday, is to be presented to Council, parent-teacher groups, the Board of Education and others.

The ministers cite the danger to children traveling to school in the early-morning darkness and fog. A Unity School student was killed last week when a truck rammed a school bus on Route 14.

Council is not slated to meet until Oct. 6, but a special session may be called.

State Seeks New Bids For Facilities At Parks

Bids will be opened Oct. 16 at Columbus for the construction of 21 latrines in 14 Ohio state parks, including 2 at Guilford Lake and one at Beaver Creek State Park, Walter Burbick, manager of the Beaver Creek park, announced today.

The projects are to be completed March 15, according to Burbick, who said picnic areas at the Beaver Creek park are being cleared in preparation for the summer program next year. The latrine project bids are being handled by the Department of Public Works at Columbus, which rejected the original bids Aug. 21 for exceeding the estimates.

Citizens Ousted From Pension Board For Police

EAST PALESTINE—A sweeping reorganization of the Police Relief and Pension Board was announced today with two veteran citizen members replaced.

Council representatives selected Edwin McGowan, who has been a Democratic candidate for several political offices, and police representatives named Charles D. Ward, a former patrolman who resigned a month ago after seven months' service.

They replaced William Dryden, who served many years as president of the board, and Chester R. Whitehouse.

The board then named Frank L. Early, president; McGowan, vice president, and Wallace Dilworth, secretary. Solicitor Jack Cohen is counsel.

The pension board is composed of two councilmen, two policemen and two citizens.

Councilmen named to the board earlier this month are Early, Republican councilman at large, and Ernest Coff, Democrat from the 1st Ward.

Police elected Patrolman Dilworth to succeed Chief C. Richard Lotze and renamed Patrolman Hugh Rambo.

The board agreed to meet the third Monday of each month at 7 p. m. It is concerned primarily with pensions of retired members and pensions to dependents of deceased members.

Midland Youth Center Will Open After Game

Mrs. William Spisak, director of Midland's Hi-Spot Youth Center, said today the doors will be open from 9:30 to 11:45 tonight for members and guests after the high school home football game.

She said about 200 are expected. The Midland Lions Club will furnish chaperones, along with the center's Adult Advisory Board.

On Oct. 3, when the team plays at Braddock, the center will be closed because students will be late returning from the game. The center has scheduled a disc jockey for Saturday night, Oct. 4, from 8:30 to 11:30.

Mrs. Spisak said the Jack O'Lantern Ball has been changed from Oct. 31 to Nov. 1 because of the game at New Brighton.

Teachers In Hancock Propose End Of DST

The Executive Council of the Hancock County Education Association Thursday night voted in favor of discontinuing Daylight Saving Time as of Sept. 30.

The 30 - member group was the second in Hancock to back a movement for an early end return to Eastern Standard Time because school pupils are forced to travel in heavy fog.

The Weirton Rotary Club launched an effort to end DST at a meeting Wednesday.

2 More In Hancock Held In Horse Books

NEW CUMBERLAND — Two more alleged horse book operators face hearings in Hancock County's spreading cleanup of liquor violations and gambling. Another was cited Wednesday and six tavern operators were arrested last week.

Released under $300 bond each for an appearance Wednesday before Squire John D. Herron were Henry J. Barber of Weirton and John Porec of New Cumberland, R. D. 1 on horse book charges.

Barber was arrested Thursday afternoon in his Main St. establishment in Weirton by Cpl. A. A. Barney, head of the Weirton Detachment of the State Police. Porec's arrest, also yesterday, was the result of another raid earlier this week in Mac's Place in Weirton where Thomas Meade McLister was cited for horse book and possession of lottery slips. He, too, will appear Wednesday, the squire said.

State Police arrested most of the tavern operators and employes for illegal possession of liquor and others for possession of slot machines.

School Leaders Slate First Autumn Meeting

LISBON—The initial fall meeting of the Columbiana County School Administrators Roundtable will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Lepper Library, Supt. James McBride announced today.

Discussion will be held on problems encountered in the first weeks of school, achievement tests and curriculum charts for the high schools and elementary grades, he said.

Phone Service Airing Set For Irondale Area

James O. Paisley and a group of other persons living near Irondale will get another chance to tell the Ohio Public Utilities Commission why they think they should be transferred to the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Exchange that serves East Liverpool and three smaller communities.

They now are in the Knoxville Exchange of the General Telephone Co. of Ohio and have to pay 10 cents toll every time they want to call East Liverpool or the other three cities.

C. Howard Johnson Jr., a commission attorney examiner, heard their case and recommended the request be denied.

But Thursday the commission set Sept. 26 for Paisley to present his arguments to the commission at Columbus. Paisley told Johnson 25 families want Ohio Bell service because most of their calls go to Ohio Bell subscribers.

But Johnson said the commission has held repeatedly it cannot transfer customers from one company to another unless a service complaint is involved.

Scoring Projects Adopted For Junior Women's Club

Projects to earn required points for the Junior Score Card were adopted Wednesday night by the East Liverpool Junior Women's Club at a 6 o'clock coverdish dinner at the YMCA. The event marked the beginning of the 1958-59 season and 30 attended.

To attain a rating of special honor club, the group must earn from 170 to 200 points in the seven divisions of federation work in local, state and national levels. This is to evaluate and interest each club in all federation work.

The local group will work on three local projects.

Chairmen of committees aligned with the state committees are Mrs. Jess Finley, American home; Mrs. Richard Emmerling, education; Mrs. Joseph C. Robbins, fine arts; Mrs. Bayard Price, international affairs; Mrs. John Morgan, legislation and citizenship; Mrs. Bernard Swoger, public affairs; Mrs. Donald Torrence, public relations, and Mrs. Robert Steffen, public welfare.

Mrs. Richard Jones, president, conducted business and outlined projects for the 1958-59 season. Mrs. Morgan urged members to register to vote and attention was called to the forthcoming Civic Music Association membership campaign beginning Monday.

An invitation was read by Mrs. Robert Bingham from the Toronto club to attend a meeting Oct. 20.

In response to an appeal from the Community Fund, the group made a contribution of $25. Projects of the City Federation of Women's Club were read in a letter from Mrs. Richard Mayers, federation president.

A report on the rummage sale held last week was given by Mrs. Howard Claypool, project chairman, who said $165 was netted.

It was announced the deadline for ordering novelty Christmas candles will be Sept. 25.

Further details were given on the sponsorship of the nursery school for children receiving therapy from the Columbiana County Affiliate of the United Cerebral Palsy Association. Mrs. Jones has been learning techniques from the Steubenville affiliate and other members will go with her today to observe the methods.

Plans to resume work parties to make the puppet dolls for child patients at City Hospital were announced by Mrs. Lawrence Keeper, puppet chairman for the club-supported hospital twig.

Announcement was made of the fall conference of the Middle-East District of the Ohio Federation of Women's Club Oct. 21 at Boardman.

The group is making plans for the fifth anniversary observance in February.

Mrs. Jack Allison gave the invocation and decorations featured floral arrangements made by Mrs. Charlotte Keller and Mrs. Donald Wolfe of the East Liverpool Garden Club.

Lighted silver tapers in milk glass holders and white cloths highlighted the decorative setting for the tables. The new program folders featuring the club flower, pink carnation, marked places.

For roll call members revealed their favorite hobby. Reports were given by Mrs. Donald Costello, treasurer, and Mrs. Finley, secretary.

Shot From Balloon Today May Start Last U.S. Tests

By JACK LEFLER

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —A sky blast is scheduled today to launch what may be the United States' last nuclear weapon test series.

The explosion, from a balloon at 500 feet, will send the Atomic Energy Commission off on a speedy 10-shot series that must end before Oct. 31, effective date of President Eisenhower's proposal for a one-year suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

This yearlong moratorium could lead to an indefinite halt.

The program is being informally called "Operation Deadline."

In this series, the AEC is seeking to develop small defensive weapons to round out the nation's atomic power.

Devices to be tested will range up to 20 kilotons. This is considered small by current standards, but in World War II it took just one two-kiloton bomb to destroy a Japanese city.

Four of the tests will be fired from balloons and low towers. The remaining six will be in tunnels deep in a mountain.

The 20-kiloton weapon will be detonated underground.

The AEC found out in 1957 with its first tunnel experiment that subterranean testing does away with a lot of problems and produces the same scientific results. Off-site radioactive fallout and blast and flash effects are eliminated.

In addition to testing the effectiveness of weapons, the series will involve experiments on the protection of people from atomic attack.

On one of the later balloon shots, 500 pigs will be placed in trenches, pill boxes and fox holes at various distances from the blast site.

The results, says Col. William S. Hutchinson Jr., deputy test manager for military affairs, "should enhance our capabilities to insure maximum survival among populations which may be exposed to atomic attack."

Center Spurs Its Fund Drive

Counseling Group Holds Meeting Here

Advancement of the annual fund drive now under way occupied directors of the Child Counseling Center when they met Thursday night in the headquarters they share in Mary Patterson Memorial with the Cerebral Palsy association.

Two Wellsville elementary principals — Miss Isa Anderson of McKinley and Miss Margaret Frischkorn of Garfield — were guests during the meeting.

Elmer Namy, phychologist, and Judge Louis Tobin, chairman of the Board of Directors, reviewed the counseling center's objectives and explained the referral program in extending an invitation to Wellsville residents to make use fo the services.

The center, which began as an East Liverpool project, recently expanded its activities to other communities in the district by adding directors from Wellsville, Chester and Newell.

Its offices in the Mary Patterson are open week days from 1:30 p. m. until 5:30 p. m. The purpose of the center is to provide counseling for the children of tri-state communities and to assist parents and teachers to a better understanding of children's problems.

The directors will meet again Oct. 16 at 8 p. m.

Registration Set For Night School

The office of Principal William A. Walters of Midland High School announced that registration for night classes will be held in the main hall Monday, Sept. 29, and Wednesday, Oct. 1, from 7 to 9 p. m.

The fee is $2 for adults residing within the borough and $6.75 for those outside, payable upon registration. Persons, 17 or older, and not attending day school, are eligible to enroll.

Classes will begin Oct. 6 and will meet every Monday and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. for 10 weeks.

Twenty or more must register to form a class, except in comptometer, which requires 10.

Classes offered in the past were Americanization, arts and crafts, comptometer, electricity, metallurgy, physical education, sewing, shorthand, typing and woodworking.

Mount Everest, the highest mountain peak in the world, would be about a mile under water if it were placed in the deepest part of the ocean.

Their Power Needed For Services

Economy Seen Collapsing If All Working Wives Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — If all the nation's working wives quit their jobs, the economy would collapse.

The National Manpower Council says this and adds that without this womanpower "we would not be able to perform the essential services needed."

The council's forecast is that more and more married women workers—they now number about 13 million—will be called into the labor force.

The council, established by the Ford Foundation, has just published a 220-page book "Work in the Lives of Married Women." It is based on a womanpower conference of more than 80 experts held last year.

The experts said so far there is no indication of any relation between employment of mothers and juvenile delinquency or maladjustment of children. They also said the fact that a wife works can't be blamed for the breakup of a marriage.

The experts said there's been a womanpower revolution and no matter what is thought of mothers working "it's hard to reverse a revolution."

They cited lots of reasons why married women work besides keeping the wolf from the door: it helps buy TV sets, cars, medical care. But whatever the reason, the council said its helping attain "a generally more desirable standard of living."

They are worried, however, that society will take advantage of the benefit in women's work but "not be sufficiently sensitive to the accompany problems of child care and development."

The council said it is evident "the ways and means of caring for the children of working mothers are inadequate" especially in lower-income families. It said further that public interest in remedying the situation is slight.

The experts felt women with children under 6 couldn't really expect to hold down a full-time job and give proper care to their children.

They suggested some maternal support program might be needed to help the young mother who otherwise might have to go to work to keep the wolf from the door.

Bishop Werner Endorses Ohio Proposal To Ban Union Shops

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bishop Hazen G. Werner of the Methodist Church's Ohio Area has endorsed the proposed Ohio constitutional amendment banning the union shop.

He pointed out, however, he was "Speaking for myself alone as a churchman and as a citizen of Ohio."

In a union shop, a worker is required to join the union within a specified time after he is employed, or else lose his job.

In Bishop Werner's statement Thursday he said he had always been pro-union, but listed five reasons why he favored the proposed amendment. They were:

1. It encourages voluntary unionism "which would require that labor organizations be constantly on the alert to prove the value of their services."

2. "Monopolistic labor policies have produced in many quarters a totalitarian atmosphere in which members dare not challenge the policies of their leaders."

3. "Freedom of choice . . . would be restored so that the voices of dissenting minorities in labor unions would not be stifled."

4. "The predicted wrecking of organized labor" has not occurred in states which have adopted similar legislation.

5. "A renewed measure of control over union leadership . . . could well mean the beginning of the end of 'hoodlumism' and totalitarianism among labor leaders."

Bishop Werner emphasized that only the general confernce of the Methodist Church can speak for the church as a whole.

New Arts Magazine 'Horizon' Added To Library Periodicals

"Horizon," a magnificent new magazine dedicated to the arts, is now available at the Carnegie Public Library.

This is a hardback magazine slated to appear four times a year in much the same manner as the historical magazine, "American Heritage," Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said.

The color reproduction meets the same high standards made famous in the older magazine, and the type of articles will have a much wider appeal, she said.

Outstanding in this first issue are "The Golden Age of the Dutch Republic," nature photographs illustrating Genesis, "The Cult of Unthink," an article of San Francisco Bohemians, and Gilbert Highet's article on "Sense and Nonsense."

This is only one of the 18 new magazines added to the periodical room in the past 6 months. There are three new magazines which are official organs of the military services, "Army Information Digest," "All Hands," from the Bureau of Naval Personnel, and "The Airman." New periodicals in the science field are "Missiles and Rockets" and "Science New Letter." For those most interested in the fine arts there are "American Artist," "High Fidelity" and "Craft Horizons." "The Bride" will prove helpful to those involved in planning a wedding.

Robert W. Murphey's "How and Where to Look It Up" is the most thorough book ever devised to help the layman thread his way through knotty reference questions. Three up-to-date editions of Merriam Webster's publications have just been received — "Biographical Dictionary," with 60,000 entries and special emphasis on pronunciation, and "Dictionary of Synonyms," with antonyms and contrasted words.

A new edition of "Statesman's Yearbook" provides statistics which are up-to-date on every country, territory and principality in the world. The first 46 pages of this famous annual are noteworthy for giving data on current membership in the United Nations, the World Council of Churches, the Pan-American Union, NATO and a host of important councils in much more detail than can be found in an almanac.

For the teacher seeking specific help in teaching students how to use reference books and the library the following are recommended:

"How to Use the Library" and "Find It Yourself" Both are phamphlets available in multiple copies. Margaret Walraven has written "Library Guidance for Teachers," "Blueprints for Better Reading" by Florence Cleary of Wayne University and "Longer Flight" by Ann Duff, both will be a boon to the teacher seeking specific suggestions for the reading program.

J. B. Phillips' "New Testament In Modern English" leads this week's additions in the religious section. He describes his method as imagining himself as a person living in Biblical times, writes his own version directly from the Greek text and then consults other translators.

The clear print is the best noted in any Biblical translation to date. Additional tools for the worker on religious programs are Desmond Murray's "Saint of the Week," 52 biographies from the Universal Calendar of Saints; "Signs of Life," a pictorial dictionary of symbols of Raphaelian; "Our Father," a handbook for meditation by Karl Becker, and Frank C. Laubach's "The World is Learning Compassion." The latter is a report on missionary work in its broadest aspects.

Eleanor Roosevelt writes with candor about the whole panorama of mankind based on her extensive travels for the U. N. The title is "On My Own."

Beaver Local Starts Student Savings Plan

A student savings program for Beaver Local High School and Public School, in association with the New Waterford Bank, was announced today by Lee Kirkland, high school principal.

Letters are being distributed to parents explaining the program under which students wishing to join can make bi-weekly deposits of 10, 25 or 50 cents or $1, Kirkland said.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the program is designed to encourage savings and to better prepare students for financial responsibility, he said. Students in the program are given coupon books and every other Tuesday, student tellers accept the deposits, stamp the book and tear out a coupon and the entire deposit is picked up by a bank representative.

Atomic City Convinced Bow-Arrow Will Stay

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP) — This atomic city is convinced the day of the bow and arrow is not over.

Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory — where the world's first atomic bomb was developed—was faced with the problem of stringing wires across a box canyon.

The walls of the canyon were too steep to climb, and the distance too great for throwing a line.

So Harold W. Groves, a lab employe and an expert bow-and-arrow man, unlimbered his equipment, tied some fishing line to the tail of an arrow and zipped it across the canyon.

The rest was easy.

I AM YOUR HOME

I AM YOUR HOME, product of nature and man and machines, thousands of skills at their best, to make living easier for you. I am the symbol of man's progress from the days of the cave. I lighten your tasks. I make strong your spirit. I make secure your future. I make enjoyable your leisure hours.

I keep you safe from the elements. I shut out the cold and the snow, the wind and the rain. I make you warm or cool. I bring you beauty and color and light. I frame for you the everchanging magic of trees and flowers and sky. No king of ages past possessed as much. I am built to endure.

I can cradle your young at birth, shape their character at youth, comfort them in their maturity, shelter them in their sunset years. I am your companion, your friend, your host, your servant, your bodyguard, your bondsman. I am your proudest possession.

I will grow nearer and dearer to you through the years. I will be loved because of the storms I have helped you weather, the heights I have helped you climb, the tears I have dried, the joys I have created. I am the expression of your faith in a way of life.

I am the fruit of your labors and the spark of your incentive. I am a bulwark against tyrants. I am yours—your stake in America, a nation made free and great by men and women who—like you—believe in the stronghold of enterprise.

I am your Home!

YOUR COMMUNITY FUND

WHAT IT STANDS FOR AND WHY YOUR SUPPORT IS URGENTLY NEEDED

WHAT IS THE COMMUNITY FUND?

The Community Fund is a voluntary federation of health and welfare agencies and contributors that works for their mutual benefit by:

1. Conducting one annual fund-raising campaign for all 6 member agencies.
2. Providing for budgetary control of all funds by representative citizens who are concerned with the well-being of the entire community.
3. Distributing funds to agencies according to need rather than by emotional appeal.
4. Maintaining central agencies for all agencies such as research, accounting and public relations.

WHO RUNS THE COMMUNITY FUND?

The Community Fund is run by a Board of Directors enlisted from various business, labor, industry and religious groups. Annually the membership of the Fund elects a Board of Directors, one-third being elected each year for a three-year term. (Every contributor is a member.) The Directors manage the affairs of the Fund and report to the membership.

HOW DO I KNOW THIS MONEY IS NEEDED?

Because a volunteer budget committee, composed of local citizens, spent many hours studying the needs of every agency participating in the Community Fund. Some budgets were cut and all of the budgets were viewed not only from the standpoint of what East Liverpool needs in the way of health, welfare, and youth service work, but also as to what East Liverpool can afford to spend for those services. You can rest assured that the final decision on how much money is needed was made by a group of people who represent you.

SUPPOSE WE HAD NO COMMUNITY FUND — WHAT DIFFERENCE WOULD THAT MAKE?

Each Agency would have its own drive. Today that would mean 6 campaigns instead of one, each with its individual cost, time and effort, Or, some services of great benefit to our community might have to fold up, while others would be taken over by the government.

HOW MANY PEOPLE BENEFIT FROM THE COMMUNITY FUND AGENCIES?

Literally everyone. More than 90% of the families of East Liverpool have at least one member served by at least one agency every year. This is a direct service. All the rest of us benefit by having the services kept available and efficient so that when we need them they are there. We all have a healthier community, better children and less delinquency as a result of the Community Fund Agencies.

THE FUND IDEA IS TO GIVE "ONCE", ISN'T IT? WHY ALL THE OTHER CAMPAIGNS?

At present the Fund is eliminating 6 separate campaigns and stands ready to further help solve the problem of multiplicity of campaigns. The Fund is willing to welcome health and welfare agencies and to work toward a more united effort—whenever the givers, workers and organizations request it.

I'D RATHER GIVE MY HELP DIRECT . . . WHY THE FUND?

A few persons in a community our size giving their help direct wouldn't scratch the surface of needs. Most people do not have the time to thoroughly investigate the cases. There would also be a strong possibility that the agencies that put on the most spectacular program would get the most, while those that can't dramatize their services would get little.

I DON'T LIKE "X" AGENCY—WHY SHOULD I HELP SUPPORT IT?

Every agency has its staunch supporters and followers. Also many contributors have some favorite agencies. When the specific likes and dislikes are added, they average out pretty even. Most contributors are public-spirited enough to support the whole Fund program in one package. However, if you wish, you may designate your pledge for a specific agency or agencies, and that request will be honored.

DO CAMPAIGN SOLICITORS GET PAID?

Absolutely not. From the Campaign Chairman down thru the entire organization, they are all volunteers, and do not get one cent of pay. To check this, you have only to ask any one of the volunteer workers in the campaign. These people generously give of their time as well as their money to the Community Fund.

WHY DO SOME AGENCIES CHARGE DUES AND SERVICE FEES?

Fees and dues cannot begin to foot the bill of maintaining the agencies. If the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y.W.C.A. conducted their own services entirely on a fee basis, a lot of people wouldn't be able to use them and belong. Charging for services and dues does help relieve the giving public of trying to support the whole program. Membership dues in the Scouts, Y.W.C.A. would be prohibitive, if there were no other source of income. This preserves the self-respect of those willing and able to pay, but still permits free service to those unable to pay.

WHAT IS ONE'S FAIR SHARE?

Your fair share is when you give until it makes you feel good. No one wished to pre-determine your gift for you. However, it is hoped that all employees of industry, insurance and commercial establishments will make a pledge for a minimum of one hours pay per month, with those earning more giving more according to ability. But there are 6 agencies who are benefited through this united effort. If we are to keep East Liverpool a progressive and healthy community we must support our health, welfare and recreational agency programs.

WHY SHOULD I GIVE AS MUCH OR MORE THAN LAST YEAR???

The objective for 1958 is 83,173.40 which is $13,000 less than the agencies actually need. For that reason, and the above mentioned, each and every contributor should not give less, but a little more to assure the continuation of fine Agency programs.

Yes, this year more than ever YOUR COMMUNITY FUND MUST HAVE YOUR SUPPORT.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

A Parade Of TV Personalities

One of the first big stories I remember when I started out as a radio columnist some 12 years ago was CBS raiding NBC. In a series of lightning border raids mostly conducted personally by William S. Paley, NBC lost Jack Benny, Bing Crosby, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Edgar Bergen and heaven knows who else. Almost overnight, CBS had almost all the big personalities.

John Crosby

Well, sir, time passed and the other day I went to NBC's hour-and-a-half preview of the fall season coming up and it seems to me that NBC has all the personalities back again. It's an impressive roster and most of them were nurtured on NBC, which seems to be on a personality kick.

-:-

THE LIST includes Perry Como (who occupies a position very close to that Bing Crosby occupied for years on the old Kraft Music Hall), Dinah Shore, Bob Hope, Milton Berle, Steve Allen, George Gobel, Eddie Fisher (who was booed on the Steve Allen show the other night), George Burns, Groucho Marx, Jack Paar, Tennessee Ernie and Ed Wynn. That's a swell lineup.

If I were a CBS executive, it seems to me Id be more than a little distressed to note that some of these guys started out wearing the CBS silks.

Steve Allen and Jack Paar both opened on CBS and drifted away. George Burns was on CBS for many years. Meanwhile, Bing Crosby and Peter Lind Hayes have left CBS and gone to ABC-TV.

Of course a certain amount of give and take between networks is to be expected, but it seems as if CBS is doing all the giving and not much taking.

-:-

TELEVISION, at the moment, is desperately in need of some really good public relations, what with the money quiz show uproar and the repeated accusation that television this year is going to be a monumentally dull procession of Westerns and quizzes.

The NBC preview seemed designed to dispel these gloomy predictions and to put the new season in some better perspective.

Right at the outset, Robert Kintner, president of NBC, pointed out that NBC planned to present a "balanced" schedule, all but spelling out the word "balanced" for us.

NBC's schedule this year, he said, would include 20 per cent variety shows, 30 per cent drama and adventure shows, 15 per cent Westerns, 15 per cent comedy and the other 20 per cent filled with news, quizzes and daytime serials.

That's too much Western and adventure stuff but it could be worse.

THE COMEDIANS were given two minutes apiece and, since this was closed circuit, they happily spilled over in all directions and the show ran a half hour over.

But they are a mighty funny bunch. Berle made jokes about his absence, had to be told how to face the camera ("Sorry! I've been away.") and he broke me up when a guy showed him the hand signals for stretching his material. "Stretch? 'Me? Berle?"

He was, as always, irreverent about NBC ("Who's president this week?"), not very much more reverent to the press ("The press has been very kind to me — since I've been off") and was the complete master of timing. He's going to be tough competition this fall.

Irreverence ran high, too, with Jack Paar, who complained of running his own show out of NBC's petty cash drawer and Mr. Robert Hope who made some paralyzingly funny gags about the quiz show scandal. "The big winners are going to need all that money for bail."

-:-

HOW RIGHT is NBC in banking so heavily on personality? Well, the old pro, Perry Como, returned to his regular stand Saturday night and a mighty fine, relaxed and tuneful show it was. More important, it was the sort of show that you could return to again and again.

Quiz rages or other manias could come and go but Como could go on forever. (And I could be dead wrong about that, too.)

This show, it seemed to me, was even more simple and direct and personal than usual.

It opened with Como strolling out and singing "Volare" all by himself. No dancing girls singing, "Well, here we all are again. Back to cheer you for another year."

Later Como got the audience to sing "Volare" along with him with a card showing the words. Shades of the old movie house songfests! (Later, Edie Adams did the same thing on her show. Must be a phase.)

Two of Como's guest were Robert Preston of "The Music Man," who did his "Trouble" number from that show and set the backwoods ablaze with it and Jimmy Van Heusen, who has written more good songs than seems fair, many of which Como sang with another guest, Marueen O'Hara.

All this was held together and made important by Como's personality, which is one of the wonders of the modern world.

Two Enter 8th Day In 'Space' Chamber

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two researchers at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine entered their eighth day in a sealed, simulated space chamber today. They report they are "feeling great" but look forward to a shower when they emerge Monday.

Both Dr. Bruno Balke and M. Sgt. Samuel G. Karst are eating and sleeping well and have stopped losing weight, said Dr. Robert C. Clark, who heads the experiment to learn more about man's reactions to living in space.

Union To Hold Pay Talk With Sanitary Firm

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters is scheduled to open negotiations in New York City Wednesday on drafting a new wage agreement covering its members employed in six plants of the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp.

IBOP members are employed by the sanitary ware firm's plants in Tiffin, Kokomo, Ind., Richmond and Torrance, Calif., Trenton, N. J., and New Orleans.

Employe representatives of the six plants will meet in a pre-conference session Sunday in the Edison Hotel in New York. The conference will open in the same hotel three days later.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, and Charles F. Jordan, secretary - treasurer, will leave over the weekend to head the IBOP delegation.

Meanwhile, the union announced an agreement has been reached ending a 4½-month strike of three IBOP locals against the Crane Co. at Trenton, formerly known as Trenton Potteries Co.

The 600 workers went on strike May 9, alleging that the company proposed a new contract that called for an increase in production and a decrease in wages. Backed by the union executive board, the workers drew $25-a-week strike benefits. They maintained picket lines around the clock at the struck plants.

W. E. Clawges of Trenton, international first vice president, announced signing of a new agreement, but full details were not known immediately, the Brotherhood said. Federal and state mediators helped bring the employes and management spokesmen together. The workers are members of IBOP Locals 45, 49 and 87.

Three Summit Youths Beat And Rob Girl, 18

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year old Hudson girl was beaten and robbed by three men who forced her to halt her car on the Twinsburg Road at Ohio 8 Thursday night.

The girl, Gloria Lytle, was treated and released from a hospital. She suffered lacerations of head, arms and legs and a cigarette burn on her hand.

Miss Lytle told Summit County Sheriff's deputies the three youths demanded money, then dragged her from the car at gunpoint after she handed them her wallet containing an undetermined amount of money.

After beating her, the youths fled into the woods south of Twinsburg Road.

Clues Meager In Massillon Bank Robbery

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Police have little to go on in a search for two men who robbed a downtown branch bank Thursday of $26,000.

"Descriptions of the two robbers are so general they could apply to a vast number of people," said Police Chief Stanley Switter.

Believed driving a pink and white 1955 Pontiac, the robbers, who wore masks over the lower part of their faces and thick dark-rimmed glasses, eluded road blocks set up in Stark County.

Norman Epler, manager of the Towne Plaza branch of the State Bank Co., said he was working at an adding machine when a teller, Mrs. Dorothy Kuhlins, said:

"Here comes a masked man."

Epler described the robbery:

"One man flashed a nickel-plated gun while the other man, who came in seconds later and stood guard at the door, kept his hands in his coat pocket as though he was armed.

"One of the men went behind the counter and started taking currency from the teller's cage. He didn't touch the coins or checks."

They ordered Epler to open the main vault, but left when he said it operated on a time-lock system and was impossible to open then.

Epler, Mrs. Kuhlins and a woman customer were forced to lie on the floor.

Triplet Sons Born To School Girl, 16

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—A 16-year-old high school girl and her triplet sons are doing nicely today.

Linda Sue Voss and her husband David, 19, had expected twins. The triplets, born Wednesday two months premature and weighing a total of 12 pounds, were placed in incubators. They were labeled A, B and C pending selection of names by the astonished parents.

The Biblical giant, Goliath, whom David slew, was more than 11 feet tall, if the cubit is taken as 21 inches.

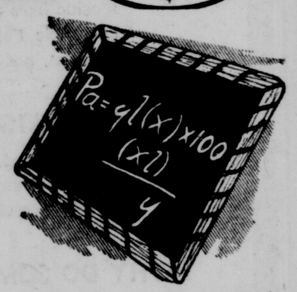
WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

- Brain Exercises
- Muscle Twitching
- Tonsils



Q. "Can the brain be improved by doing difficult crossword puzzles and by taking courses in such subjects as Latin and Algebra?—A student."

A. The question is, "How much does doing one thing help us do something else?" An argument in favor of Latin and Math is that such courses provide good "mental exercise." This could be true but one investigator tried transfer training, as it is called, without much luck. Memorizing one thing didn't help his students memorize something else. As for crossword puzzles, working them would improve the vocabulary but not necessarily sharpen the wits.

Q. What causes muscle twitching? It annoys me more at night than during the day.

A. Muscle twitching can be a sign of some serious disorder. On the other hand, perfectly normal people have occasional twitching of muscles when they are tired or tense.

Q. Do tonsils ever grow back?

A. Yes, and through no fault of the surgeon. The "new" tonsil develops from a tiny island of tissue that is too small to be seen. Regrowth seems to occur more often in children than in adults because youngsters have a tendency to replace this type of tissue.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

A Parade Of TV Personalities

One of the first big stories I remember when I started out as a radio columnist some 12 years ago was CBS raiding NBC. In a series of lightning border raids mostly conducted personally by William S. Paley, NBC lost Jack Benny, Bing Crosby, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Edgar Bergen and heaven knows who else. Almost overnight, CBS had almost all the big personalities.

John Crosby

Well, sir, time passed and the other day I went to NBC's hour-and-a-half preview of the fall season coming up and it seems to me that NBC has all the personalities back again. It's an impressive roster and most of them were nurtured on NBC, which seems to be on a personality kick.

-:-

THE LIST includes Perry Como (who occupies a position very close to that Bing Crosby occupied for years on the old Kraft Music Hall), Dinah Shore, Bob Hope, Milton Berle, Steve Allen, George Gobel, Eddie Fisher (who was booed on the Steve Allen show the other night), George Burns, Groucho Marx, Jack Paar, Tennessee Ernie and Ed Wynn. That's a swell lineup.

If I were a CBS executive, it seems to me Id be more than a little distressed to note that some of these guys started out wearing the CBS silks.

Steve Allen and Jack Paar both opened on CBS and drifted away. George Burns was on CBS for many years. Meanwhile, Bing Crosby and Peter Lind Hayes have left CBS and gone to ABC-TV.

Of course a certain amount of give and take between networks is to be expected, but it seems as if CBS is doing all the giving and not much taking.

TELEVISION, at the moment, is desperately in need of some really good public relations, what with the money quiz show uproar and the repeated accusation that television this year is going to be a monumentally dull procession of Westerns and quizzes.

The NBC preview seemed designed to dispel these gloomy predictions and to put the new season in some better perspective.

Right at the outset, Robert Kintner, president of NBC, pointed out that NBC planned to present a "balanced" schedule, all but spelling out the word "balanced" for us.

NBC's schedule this year, he said, would include 20 per cent variety shows, 30 per cent drama and adventure shows, 15 per cent Westerns, 15 per cent comedy and the other 20 per cent filled with news, quizzes and daytime serials.

That's too much Western and adventure stuff but it could be worse.

THE COMEDIANS were given two minutes apiece and, since this was closed circuit, they happily spilled over in all directions and the show ran a half hour over.

But they are a mighty funny bunch. Berle made jokes about his absence, had to be told how to face the camera ("Sorry! I've been away.") and he broke me up when a guy showed him the hand signals for stretching his material. "Stretch? 'Me? Berle?"

He was, as always, irreverent about NBC ("Who's president this week?"), not very much more reverent to the press ("The press has been very kind to me — since I've been off") and was the complete master of timing. He's going to be tough competition this fall.

Irreverence ran high, too, with Jack Paar, who complained of running his own show out of NBC's petty cash drawer and Mr. Robert Hope who made some paralyzingly funny gags about the quiz show scandal. "The big winners are going to need all that money for bail."

HOW RIGHT is NBC in banking so heavily on personality? Well, the old pro, Perry Como, returned to his regular stand Saturday night and a mighty fine, relaxed and tuneful show it was. More important, it was the sort of show that you could return to again and again.

Quiz rages or other manias could come and go but Como could go on forever. (And I could be dead wrong about that, too.)

This show, it seemed to me, was even more simple and direct and personal than usual.

It opened with Como strolling out and singing "Volare" all by himself. No dancing girls singing, "Well, here we all are again. Back to cheer you for another year."

Later Como got the audience to sing "Volare" along with him with a card showing the words. Shades of the old movie house songfests! (Later, Edie Adams did the same thing on her show. Must be a phase.)

Two of Como's guest were Robert Preston of "The Music Man," who did his "Trouble" number from that show and set the backwoods ablaze with it and Jimmy Van Heusen, who has written more good songs than seems fair, many of which Como sang with another guest, Marueen O'Hara.

All this was held together and made important by Como's personality, which is one of the wonders of the modern world.

Two Enter 8th Day In 'Space' Chamber

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two researchers at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine entered their eighth day in a sealed, simulated space chamber today. They report they are "feeling great" but look forward to a shower when they emerge Monday.

Both Dr. Bruno Balke and M. Sgt. Samuel G. Karst are eating and sleeping well and have stopped losing weight, said Dr. Robert C. Clark, who heads the experiment to learn more about man's reactions to living in space.

Union To Hold Pay Talk With Sanitary Firm

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters is scheduled to open negotiations in New York City Wednesday on drafting a new wage agreement covering its members employed in six plants of the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp.

IBOP members are employed by the sanitary ware firm's plants in Tiffin, Kokomo, Ind., Richmond and Torrance, Calif., Trenton, N. J., and New Orleans.

Employe representatives of the six plants will meet in a pre-conference session Sunday in the Edison Hotel in New York. The conference will open in the same hotel three days later.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, and Charles F. Jordan, secretary - treasurer, will leave over the weekend to head the IBOP delegation.

Meanwhile, the union announced an agreement has been reached ending a 4½-month strike of three IBOP locals against the Crane Co. at Trenton, formerly known as Trenton Potteries Co.

The 600 workers went on strike May 9, alleging that the company proposed a new contract that called for an increase in production and a decrease in wages. Backed by the union executive board, the workers drew $25-a-week strike benefits. They maintained picket lines around the clock at the struck plants.

W. E. Clawges of Trenton, international first vice president, announced signing of a new agreement, but full details were not known immediately, the Brotherhood said. Federal and state mediators helped bring the employes and management spokesmen together. The workers are members of IBOP Locals 45, 49 and 87.

Three Summit Youths Beat And Rob Girl, 18

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year old Hudson girl was beaten and robbed by three men who forced her to halt her car on the Twinsburg Road at Ohio 8 Thursday night.

The girl, Gloria Lytle, was treated and released from a hospital. She suffered lacerations of head, arms and legs and a cigarette burn on her hand.

Miss Lytle told Summit County Sheriff's deputies the three youths demanded money, then dragged her from the car at gunpoint after she handed them her wallet containing an undetermined amount of money.

After beating her, the youths fled into the woods south of Twinsburg Road.

Bequeathed $100,000

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Oberlin College in Ohio was bequeathed $100,000 in the will of R. T. Miller Jr., 91, of suburban Scottsville. Miller was the founder of the American (correspondence) School in Chicago. The will, admitted to probate Thursday, gave more than $245,000 to 11 organizations.

Clues Meager In Massillon Bank Robbery

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Police have little to go on in a search for two men who robbed a downtown branch bank Thursday of $26,000.

"Descriptions of the two robbers are so general they could apply to a vast number of people," said Police Chief Stanley Switter.

Believed driving a pink and white 1955 Pontiac, the robbers, who wore masks over the lower part of their faces and thick dark-rimmed glasses, eluded road blocks set up in Stark County.

Norman Epler, manager of the Towne Plaza branch of the State Bank Co., said he was working at an adding machine when a teller, Mrs. Dorothy Kuhlins, said:

"Here comes a masked man."

Epler described the robbery:

"One man flashed a nickel-plated gun while the other man, who came in seconds later and stood guard at the door, kept his hands in his coat pocket as though he was armed.

"One of the men went behind the counter and started taking currency from the teller's cage. He didn't touch the coins or checks."

They ordered Epler to open the main vault, but left when he said it operated on a time-lock system and was impossible to open then.

Epler, Mrs. Kuhlins and a woman customer were forced to lie on the floor.

Triplet Sons Born To School Girl, 16

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—A 16-year-old high school girl and her triplet sons are doing nicely today.

Linda Sue Voss and her husband David, 19, had expected twins. The triplets, born Wednesday two months premature and weighing a total of 12 pounds, were placed in incubators. They were labeled A, B and C pending selection of names by the astonished parents.

The Biblical giant, Goliath, whom David slew, was more than 11 feet tall, if the cubit is taken as 21 inches.

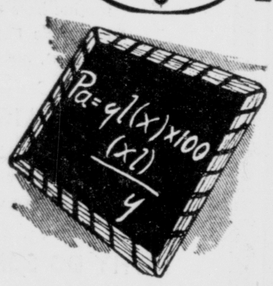
WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Better Health Through Knowledge

- Brain Exercises
- Muscle Twitching
- Tonsils



Q. "Can the brain be improved by doing difficult crossword puzzles and by taking courses in such subjects as Latin and Algebra?—A student."

A. The question is, "How much does doing one thing help us do something else?" An argument in favor of Latin and Math is that such courses provide good "mental exercise." This could be true but one investigator tried transfer training, as it is called, without much luck. Memorizing one thing didn't help his students memorize something else. As for crossword puzzles, working them would improve the vocabulary but not necessarily sharpen the wits.

Q. What causes muscle twitching? It annoys me more at night than during the day.

A. Muscle twitching can be a sign of some serious disorder. On the other hand, perfectly normal people have occasional twitching of muscles when they are tired or tense.

Q. Do tonsils ever grow back?

A. Yes, and through no fault of the surgeon. The "new" tonsil develops from a tiny island of tissue that is too small to be seen. Regrowth seems to occur more often in children than in adults because youngsters have a tendency to replace this type of tissue.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Enjoy Reading By An Adult

In our nation, there has been a commendable growing practice of reading aloud to children in the classroom. The practice has been extending gradually from the kindergarten to high school. From what I can gather, children like it very much. Presumably this practice is more prevalent and popular in British schools. An inquiry by J. D. Carsley of the University of Liverpool into the interests of children (aged 10 to 11) in books other than textbooks is reported in the British Journal of Education, 1957.

By Garry Meyers

Information from 1,054 boys and 986 girls revealed that the children enjoyed the teacher reading aloud more than silent reading themselves. Listening to other children was least enjoyable.

USUALLY, the teacher reads aloud better than any pupil of her class. She also tends to read from more grown - up books.

Even when a pupil or student reads well aloud, his classmates are less ready to listen to him read than to the teacher. Fewer of these listeners feel inferior when teacher reads. There's not a vague stirring of jealousy either.

Yet books and articles on methods for teachers have for years and years been replete with advice to have children read aloud to the class, assuming the classmates will enjoy listening to them. In actuality they hardly ever do.

I've often wondered why superior readers are not assigned to read aloud before children several grades lower than their own.

For example, a high school student might read to a fifth grade class; a pupil of the fifth grade might read to second grade children, and so on.

IN ORDER to encourage enjoyment of reading aloud in the family, we should always aim to have the child read aloud only from what he can read very well.

The easier he is to listen to, the greater his enjoyment and that of the rest of the family.

Wise parents begin to read to the baby as soon as he will listen — and most children will as early as two years of age. These parents keep on reading to this child as long as he likes.

My bulletin, "Why Read to The Baby and Young Child?" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Witness Declares Crowley Didn't Beat Up Jones

TOKYO (AP) — A defense witness testified today Joseph P. Crowley "was in no way responsible" for the death of his brother-in-law T. A. D. Jones Jr., 45-year-old businessman from New Haven, Conn.

"I definitely knew Jones did not get a beating in room 202," said Frederic M. Kissinger, 62, of Brandywine, Md., longtime consultant for the T. A. D. Jones Co.

Crowley, a former Yale football star, is charged with fatally beating Jones in the early hours of May 8 in their Imperial hotel suite after an all-night drinking spree. Jones died of a cerebral hemorrhage later in the day.

Kissinger came here May 5 with Jones and Crowley to buy an oil tanker and shared their suite. Room 202 was the living room flanked by two bed rooms.

Kissinger said that when he told Crowley of Jones' death "he appeared in a great state of shock. I do know he was exceedingly fond of Jones and showed it very distinctly."

Kissinger testified he had been awakened around 5:30 a.m. May 8 by the sound of a crash and found Jones sprawled on the floor, hurt, drunk but still conscious.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Attitude Vital To Slimming Program

By and large, weight is a state of mind. Dieters, if you are convinced that at long last you have found the foolproof way to control your weight through the protective pattern of eating, your're on the right track. But if your thoughts dwell on forbidden food and you can hardly wait for the diet to be over so you can go back to eating as usual, you're headed for trouble. How you think can make all the difference.

Ida Jean Kain

Let's do some honest fact facing. A martyred feeling that you are being denied your favorite foods is insidiously harmful, for your mind prods you into turning to food for comfort.

When you have a strong incentive for slimming down and keeping your weight controlled, then turning down fattening fare is no struggle.

EVEN THE KEEN edge of hunger can serve as a sort of satisfaction. In fact, you prefer that quickened feeling to the full feeling of heaviness that comes with overeating. In short, it boils down to what you honestly want — to be shapely weight or to indulge in fattening foods.

The choice is yours. Dieters, recognize that while reducing appears to be a physical achievement, it is actually a mental triumph.

This emphasis on the psychological factors is not meant to belittle the importance of good nutrition. On the nutrition score, the character of the daily meals is important both in reducing and in keeping slim.

With adequate protein a meal has a stick-to-the-ribs quality. Nutrition research has shown that a complete protein food at each of the three meals gives optimum control over hunger.

The scientific pattern of eating to reduce is built around protein and all the protective foods. This same pattern with calories slighly increased is the basis for controlling weight.

Many of you who have reduced are asking how many calories you need to keep your weight controlled. This depends on a number of factors, including your physical activity. However, at this time, calories should be added very gradually for the physiological reason that your metabolism is in low gear and it would be easy to gain.

FOR THE FIRST few weeks add 100 to 200 more calories a day. Let these calories come from larger portions of the protective foods. Instead of a half of a baked potato, have a whole one and a larger serving of lean meat.

At this point you will wonder wistfully if you can never again eat any of your favorite foods. Certainly you can, but first get your food habits and your way of thinking about food in the right pattern. Then you will be content with an occasional high calorie treat. You won't want to go back to overeating.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Ford Employes At Lorain Plant To Return Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—Workers at the Ford Motor Co. assembly plant in Lorain will return to work Sunday at midnight. Negotiations were under way today to end a walkout at nine other Ford plants in Ohio.

Some 16,735 workers walked out Wednesday when negotiations in Detroit on a new contract went past the deadline. Agreement between the company and the United Automobile Workers Union on a three-year contract was reached shortly after the walkout.

But local issues—overtime, seniority in plants and departments, health and safety, and job classifications—remained to be settled in negotiations at the plant level.

Local 344 at Lorain, representing 1,147 workers, reached agreement with Ford Thursday and ordered picket lines disbanded. Maintenance men returned to work immediately.

Some 119 parts department employes in Cleveland and Cincinnati also returned to work.

Still striking are more than 16,000 workers at plants in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Canton, Lima and Sandusky.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I freshen faded rugs and carpets?

A. Go over them occasionally with a broom dipped in hot water, to which a little turpentine has been added. This will freshen them, and at the same time prevent moths.

Q. How can I hasten the roasting of meat?

A. by searing it under the broiler while waiting for the oven to get hot. By the time the meat is browned, the oven will be hot enough.

McPartland's Estate Gets Complicated

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Author John McPartland's estate got a little more complicated Thursday—one more wife and another child.

That runs the total to three woman, two of them married, and seven children. The additions came out in Superior Court at nearby Salinas as Mrs. Ida McPartland was named temporary special administratrix of his estate.

Ida said the author of the best-selling book "No Down Payment" was the father of her son Donald, 10. She also repeated that he had fathered five children of Eleanor McPartland, to whom he was not married, and added that he had a 21-year-old daughter by a previous marriage.

The eldest daughter's name is Cynthia, Ida said, although she did not make public the name of that wife or give details.

The writer's tangled life came to light after he died when Ida explained to newspapermen that obituary notices were incorrect in listing Eleanor as the widow. Ida declared she married McPartland in 1943 at Tyler, Tex., and that they were never separated legally.

Eleanor was Monterey's Mother of The Year in 1956. Ida lives 125 miles away from this art colony, at Mill Valley north of San Francisco.

McPartland died of a heart attack Sunday at the home of Eleanor.

Children Enjoy Reading By An Adult

By Garry Meyers

In our nation, there has been a commendable growing practice of reading aloud to children in the classroom. The practice has been extending gradually from the kindergarten to high school. From what I can gather, children like it very much. Presumably this practice is more prevalent and popular in British schools. An inquiry by J. D. Carsley of the University of Liverpool into the interests of children (aged 10 to 11) in books other than textbooks is reported in the British Journal of Education, 1957.

Information from 1,054 boys and 986 girls revealed that the children enjoyed the teacher reading aloud more than silent reading themselves. Listening to other children was least enjoyable.

USUALLY, the teacher reads aloud better than any pupil of her class. She also tends to read from more grown - up books.

Even when a pupil or student reads well aloud, his classmates are less ready to listen to him read than to the teacher. Fewer of these listeners feel inferior when teacher reads. There's not a vague stirring of jealousy either.

Yet books and articles on methods for teachers have for years and years been replete with advice to have children read aloud to the class, assuming the classmates will enjoy listening to them. In actuality they hardly ever do.

I've often wondered why superior readers are not assigned to read aloud before children several grades lower than their own.

For example, a high school student might read to a fifth grade class; a pupil of the fifth grade might read to second grade children, and so on.

IN ORDER to encourage enjoyment of reading aloud in the family, we should always aim to have the child read aloud only from what he can read very well.

The easier he is to listen to, the greater his enjoyment and that of the rest of the family.

Wise parents begin to read to the baby as soon as he will listen — and most children will as early as two years of age. These parents keep on reading to this child as long as he likes.

My bulletin, "Why Read to The Baby and Young Child?" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Witness Declares Crowley Didn't Beat Up Jones

TOKYO (AP) — A defense witness testified today Joseph P. Crowley "was in no way responsible" for the death of his brother-in-law T. A. D. Jones Jr., 45-year-old businessman from New Haven, Conn.

"I definitely knew Jones did not get a beating in room 202," said Frederic M. Kissinger, 62, of Brandywine, Md., longtime consultant for the T. A. D. Jones Co.

Crowley, a former Yale football star, is charged with fatally beating Jones in the early hours of May 8 in their Imperial hotel suite after an all-night drinking spree. Jones died of a cerebral hemorrhage later in the day.

Kissinger came here May 5 with Jones and Crowley to buy an oil tanker and shared their suite. Room 202 was the living room flanked by two bed rooms.

Kissinger said that when he told Crowley of Jones' death "he appeared in a great state of shock. I do know he was exceedingly fond of Jones and showed it very distinctly."

Kissinger testified he had been awakened around 5:30 a.m. May 8 by the sound of a crash and found Jones sprawled on the floor, hurt, drunk but still conscious.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Attitude Vital To Slimming Program

Ida Jean Kain

By and large, weight is a state of mind. Dieters, if you are convinced that at long last you have found the foolproof way to control your weight through the protective pattern of eating, your're on the right track. But if your thoughts dwell on forbidden food and you can hardly wait for the diet to be over so you can go back to eating as usual, you're headed for trouble. How you think can make all the difference.

Let's do some honest fact facing. A martyred feeling that you are being denied your favorite foods is insidiously harmful, for your mind prods you into turning to food for comfort.

When you have a strong incentive for slimming down and keeping your weight controlled, then turning down fattening fare is no struggle.

EVEN THE KEEN edge of hunger can serve as a sort of satisfaction. In fact, you prefer that quickened feeling to the full feeling of heaviness that comes with overeating. In short, it boils down to what you honestly want — to be shapely weight or to indulge in fattening foods.

The choice is yours. Dieters, recognize that while reducing appears to be a physical achievement, it is actually a mental triumph.

This emphasis on the psychological factors is not meant to belittle the importance of good nutrition. On the nutrition score, the character of the daily meals is important both in reducing and in keeping slim.

With adequate protein a meal has a stick-to-the-ribs quality. Nutrition research has shown that a complete protein food at each of the three meals gives optimum control over hunger.

The scientific pattern of eating to reduce is built around protein and all the protective foods. This same pattern with calories slighly increased is the basis for controlling weight.

Many of you who have reduced are asking how many calories you need to keep your weight controlled. This depends on a number of factors, including your physical activity. However, at this time, calories should be added very gradually for the physiological reason that your metabolism is in low gear and it would be easy to gain.

FOR THE FIRST few weeks add 100 to 200 more calories a day. Let these calories come from larger portions of the protective foods. Instead of a half of a baked potato, have a whole one and a larger serving of lean meat.

At this point you will wonder wistfully if you can never again eat any of your favorite foods. Certainly you can, but first get your food habits and your way of thinking about food in the right pattern. Then you will be content with an occasional high calorie treat. You won't want to go back to overeating.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Ford Employes At Lorain Plant To Return Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—Workers at the Ford Motor Co. assembly plant in Lorain will return to work Sunday at midnight. Negotiations were under way today to end a walkout at nine other Ford plants in Ohio.

Some 16,735 workers walked out Wednesday when negotiations in Detroit on a new contract went past the deadline. Agreement between the company and the United Automobile Workers Union on a three-year contract was reached shortly after the walkout.

But local issues—overtime, seniority in plants and departments, health and safety, and job classifications—remained to be settled in negotiations at the plant level.

Local 344 at Lorain, representing 1,147 workers, reached agreement with Ford Thursday and ordered picket lines disbanded. Maintenance men returned to work immediately.

Some 119 parts department employes in Cleveland and Cincinnati also returned to work.

Still striking are more than 16,000 workers at plants in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Canton, Lima and Sandusky.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I freshen faded rugs and carpets?

A. Go over them occasionally with a broom dipped in hot water, to which a little turpentine has been added. This will freshen them, and at the same time prevent moths.

Q. How can I hasten the roasting of meat?

A. by searing it under the broiler while waiting for the oven to get hot. By the time the meat is browned, the oven will be hot enough.

McPartland's Estate Gets Complicated

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Author John McPartland's estate got a little more complicated Thursday—one more wife and another child.

That runs the total to three woman, two of them married, and seven children. The additions came out in Superior Court at nearby Salinas as Mrs. Ida McPartland was named temporary special administratrix of his estate.

Ida said the author of the best-selling book "No Down Payment" was the father of her son Donald, 10. She also repeated that he had fathered five children of Eleanor McPartland, to whom he was not married, and added that he had a 21-year-old daughter by a previous marriage.

The eldest daughter's name is Cynthia, Ida said, although she did not make public the name of that wife or give details.

The writer's tangled life came to light after he died when Ida explained to newspapermen that obituary notices were incorrect in listing Eleanor as the widow. Ida declared she married McPartland in 1943 at Tyler, Tex., and that they were never separated legally.

Eleanor was Monterey's Mother of The Year in 1956. Ida lives 125 miles away from this art colony, at Mill Valley north of San Francisco.

McPartland died of a heart attack Sunday at the home of Eleanor.

Potters To Face Libbey In Second Tough Battle In Row

Toledo Team Given Edge In Contest Here

With a break in the weather, between 4,000 and 5,000 fans are expected to be on hand tonight at Patterson Field when Coach Lou Venditti's injury - plagued Potters face Toledo Libbey, one of the state's topflight teams.

Kickoff time is 7:45.

The fact that Libbey knocked off Lorain last week, plus serious injuries to two Potter regulars, makes the Blue and White a definite underdog.

Lorain was rated among Ohio's top 10 squads in a pre - season poll before being defeated, 21-14, by Libbey's Bill "Thunder" Thornton and Co.

THE OPENING whistle tonight will find the shallow - ranked Potters without the services of varsity center Charlie Barnhouse, who suffered a broken leg in last week's 20-20 tie with Akron St. Vincent, and tackle Jim Clunk, who suffered a head injury.

By comparison, the Cowboys came out of the Lorain scuffle in top shape and will be gunning for their second victory of the year under Coach Bob Momsen.

A question mark still hovers over veteran Potter guard Nick Musuraca. After missing the first game because of a bruised shoulder, Musuraca, a 160-pound senior, worked out in practice this week, but still sat out the heavy drills.

IT APPEARS as if Venditti will have to do some fast shuffling with his defensive unit to come up with enough fortifications to halt Thornton, reported to be one of the state's best fullbacks.

Filling in for the injured Barnhouse will be senior Joe Leigh, 175 pounds, who will play offense only. Carl Ludwig again will have to see double duty at the tackle spot.

Venditti pointed out that originally Ludwig could have been spelled by Clunk, but now an untried gridder will have to plug the gap in the line if it becomes necessary.

Libbey probably will operate mostly from the single wing, with the hard - running Thornton doing most of the ball carrying. Scouting reports on the Cowboys tag Thornton as the man to stop, but pointed out that the rest of the experienced backfield can't be overlooked either.

Toledo's halfbacks, Ike King and Billy Rayford, were both track standouts last spring. Teamed with Thornton, they give Libbey a dangerous scoring punch.

LIBBEY ALSO has two veteran ends, both good pass catchers, in Ellwood Rayford, 178 pounds, and Tyrone Adams, 189 pounds, and can flash a fair passing game if needed. Quarterback Bruce Ewen, 162 pounds, does most of the passing and is a returnee from last year.

Pat Cooper, who turned in a top-notch defensive job for the Potters in the Akron game, will go at right end and Ron Prince at the other terminal. Mike Kapp and Ludwig will see duty at the tackles and either Musuraca or Charlie Davidson will team with Jim Bise at the guards.

Late Bambino Pitcher Yanks 'Hated Most'

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Lary's feat of whipping the New York Yankees seven times this season naturally establishes the Detroit right-hander as the pitcher the American League champions "hate to meet the most."

That brings up the question: Which pitcher did the Yankees hate to meet the most since entering the league in 1903?

Was it Walter Johnson, who defeated them 60 times in a 20-year span? Was it Ed Walsh, who conquered them a record nine times in one season? Was it Lefty Grove, who beat them 35 times during the years that comprised their first dynasty?

Was it Hal Newhouser, who beat them six times in each of two different seasons? Was it Bob Feller, who hurled a no-hitter against Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller, Tommy Henrich and Co.? Or is it Lary, who holds 16 victories in 21 decisions with the Yankees?

None of these.

The pitcher the Yankees "hated to meet the most" was a fellow called Babe Ruth — the same Bambino who with his bat ruined enemy pitchers for the Yankees.

As a left-handed pitching star with the Boston Red Sox, from 1915 through 1919, Ruth whipped the Yankees 17 times. They beat him only five times. Three of his defeats were by shutouts, two by 1-0 scores. Another loss was by 2-1.

Yesterday's STARS

By The Associated Press

Pitching — Bud Daley, Athletics, gained his first complete game of the season with a five-hitter that beat the Red Sox 4-1, striking out four and walking but one.

Hitting — Red Schoendienst, Braves, had four hits in five trips, rapping three doubles and scoring three times in 9-3 victory over the Cardinals.

Cleveland Eyes Series At Detroit For Third Place

DETROIT (AP) — In a four-game series here with the Detroit Tigers this weekend, the Cleveland Indians could take third place away from their hosts by winning three times.

Cal McLish is hurling for the Tribe today, opposed by Paul Foytack. Saturday's double - header, which includes a makeup game, probably will find Hal Woodeshick and Gary Bell pitching for the Indians and Frank Lary and Bill Hoeft for the Tigers.

Next weekend the Indians will play their final three games against the Tigers in Cleveland. In their seven games the two clubs may settle the issue of third and fourth places in league standings, providing Boston does not revive enough to get into the act.

For while Cleveland is in fourth, two games behind Detroit, Boston is only half a game behind Cleveland—and will be playing six games with the last place Washington Senators.

Long Term As Coach

UNIVERSITY, Ala. (AP) — Frank Thomas, who coached football at the University of Alabama from 1931 through 1946, was at the helm of Tide elevens longer than any other coach.

Grid Renewal Pairs Toronto And Wellsville

One of the upper Ohio Valley's most hotly contested football rivalries—Wellsville and Toronto—will be renewed tonight when the Tigers host the Gem City eleven at Nicholson Stadium in Wellsville. It will be the 33rd meeting.

The series between the two schools dates back to 1921 and Wellsville has barely managed to retain only a two-game margin in the victory column over the span of years, winning 17 to Toronto's 15.

Tonight's game at 8 appears to be one of the most evenly-matched contests in recent years as both teams were hit heavily by graduation which left both new coaches with only a scant supply of experienced veterans.

Last year, Toronto emerged the victor, 20-7, while Wellsville won in 1956, 19-0. Across the years, the two squads have engaged in some real battles but Wellsville's decline as a football power in the last decade has enabled the Red Knights to nearly pull ahead in the series.

In the last 15 years, Toronto has won 11 and lost only 4 to the Tigers who once held a 13-4 margin in the period from 1921 to 1943.

Time was when Wellsville could count on the Knights as being a certain victim during the season. Wellsville opened the series in 1921 with a 28-6 triumph, lost two of the next three, and then embarked on a seven-game sweep from 1930 to 1937 when Toronto finally snapped the string by a score of 9-7.

Wellsville's great teams in the 1930's kept Toronto from scoring a touchdown while winning the series from 1930 to 1936.

At the end of the 1942 series, Wellsville had a 13-4 margin but has managed to win only four games from the Knights since then.

Toronto has completely dominated the annual battle in the years since 1943 and a four-game sweep from 1946 to 1950 helped keep Wellsville's victory margin to only a few games.

Wellsville's most decisive game was a 32-0 victory in 1932, but Toronto's strong squads in the late 1940's tagged the Tigers, 39-0. A dozen of the 32 games have been decided by only one touchdown or less.

Wellsville's new coach this year is youthful Ken Woods, formerly of Fairfield - Waterford, while Toronto is coached by 23-year-old Earl Biederman, the district's youngest head coach.

He played his football under Ara Parseghian at Miami University, while Woods was graduated from Cedarville College and received his master' degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Toronto, with only 26 men on its varsity roster, was trounced last week by Weirton, West Virginia state champions, 46-0, while Austintown Fitch trampled Wellsville, 60-14.

Former Coach At Palestine Wins Opener

Coach John Hogan, who piloted East Palestine to prominence in district football circles, apparently has carried his winning methods to Ashland High School, where he began his duties this fall.

The 30-year-old graduate of Cincinnati boasts the enviable record of having won 38 and lost only 9 during five years with East Palestine. His squads won the Tri-County championship three times.

Hogan made his debut at Ashland a successful one as his Arrows opened the new season with a 24-14 victory over arch-rival Shelby after winning only five games in the last five years.

While at Palestine, Hogan's squads totaled 1,194 points and held the opposition to 447. Jim Linder, who won the district scoring championship in 1956 with 180 points, and Beau Bell, who won the honor last year and is back again to attempt to duplicate the feat, both were tutored by the offensive-minded Hogan. Hogan was succeeded at East Palestine by Bob Mallory.

Eastern Hockey Loop Will Open On Oct. 23

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Eastern Hockey League will open its season Oct. 23 with seven clubs and a new owner for the Washington Presidents, League President Thomas Lockhart announced Thursday night.

Lockhart said the new club will be his New York Rovers, inactive for four years, and that Lou Pieri, owner of the Providence Reds of the American Hockey League, will take over the Washington club.

The other clubs are the Philadelphia Ramblers, the Johnstown Jets, the Clinton Comets, the Charlotte Clippers and the New Haven Blades.

Chester Fullback Out With Sprained Ankle

Fullback Don Shaw, the only letterman on Chester High's football team this year, will definitely miss Saturday night's game with Beaver Local, Coach Dom Amedeo said today. The 175-pound senior is out with a sprained ankle suffered in Chesters' 19-13 victory over South Side last week. However, he will probably return to action next week against Wellsville, Amedeo said.

Topic Of Hot Controversy

College Football Season Officially Opens Tonight

By The Associated Press

The 1958 college football season, a topic of hot controversy, officially opens tonight with new rules, new coaches and the same old upset potential.

The big game pits Oregon State, ranked No. 12 in The Associated Press preseason poll, against Southern California in the Pacific Coast Conference. It marks the beginning of the final year for the PCC.

Other games tonight include George Washington at Detroit, Catawba at Davidson and Jacksonville at Chattanooga.

Saturday, things begin to hop in the South and Southwest. There also will be a smattering of activity in the East, Midwest, Rockies and Far West.

This will produce the first test of new rules making an extra point worth two points by a run or pass, allowing a player to enter the game twice within the same quarter, forcing an offensive blocker to use one arm instead of two and allowing downfield blocking before the reception of a forward pass.

Mississippi, No. 6, the highest ranked team to see action, goes out of the Southeast Conference to play Memphis State, while the ranked Texas Christian meets the Big Eight's Kansas, under new coach Jack Mitchell.

North Carolina, ranked No. 10, plays rival North Carolina State in an Atlantic Coast Conference tilt.

In the second 10, Texas (No. 11) plays Georgia at night, while 18th-ranked Clemson faces ACC foe Virginia, where Dick Voris makes his debut for the Cavaliers.

On the Pacific Coast, Eastern independent Pitt (No. 19) faces UCLA, with George Dickerson taking over for the Uclans' late Red Sanders. Texas A&M, No. 20, under Jim Myers for the first time, plays Texas Tech, a non-football member of the Southwest Conference until 1960.

Television viewers get in on the act when Missouri hosts Vanderbilt and Oklahoma State plays Denver in the Rocky Mountain area.

Shadow Wave 'Jug' Winner

DELAWARE, Ohio. (AP) — You'd think a trainer-driver who has won more than $2,000,000 in purses in the last six years could pretty well figure when he has a chance to win a horse race.

But 41-year-old Joe O'Brien, who has piled up that big payoff, was fooled Thursday. He won the $65,252 Little Brown Jug for three-year-old pacers with the California comet, Shadow Wave, after deciding he couldn't do it.

O'Brien hadn't started Shadow Wave, owned by the S. A. Camp Farms of Shafter, Calif., since Sept. 4 at Indianapolis, and he figured the rest had benefited the speedster.

"But if Meadow Bucky hadn't broken off the pace, giving us a little racing room, and that opening in the front tier hadn't been there, I doubt if we'd have made it," he said.

Bye Bye Byrd, holder of the world record of 1:57 4-5 and an odds-on favorite, failed to threaten in either heat.

Pretty Well Set, Brown Says Of Cleveland Squad

CLEVELAND (AP)—Now that the exhibition football season is about over, Paul Brown calmly assesses his Cleveland squad as "pretty well set" in all offensive and defensive assignments.

Not that the Browns don't need plenty of practice in timing and working together. But Coach Brown seems to feel his material is sorted out properly, so the real preparations for the league season can start.

"There still is a fight at several positions for the third (string) job," he said. "In almost every case we've had a pretty good look at those in the competition."

Saturday night at Municipal Stadium the Browns will play an exhibition game with the Detroit Lions. Each club has won two and lost three exhibitions this year.

The Browns will have Milt Plum as quarterback, with Jim Ninowski as relief, sophomore Jim Brown as fullback and Ray Renfro as flanker. The running halfback job will be alternated between the two rookie scatbacks, Bobby Mitchell of Illinois and little Leroy Bolden of Michigan State.

Busso-Ortiz Clash Tonight In TV Scrap

NEW YORK (AP)—The "championship" of New York's East Side will be at stake again tonight when "defending champion" Johnny Busso meets Carlos Ortiz in a return television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Ortiz is an 8-5 favorite.

To an outsider the neighborhood crown might not mean a thing, but to lightweights Busso, 25, and Ortiz, 22, it's the next best prize to a world title. This holds despite the fact they are high ranking contenders for Joe Brown's championship.

Oddly enough neither lives in the old neighborhood in the East 20's any more.

"But I go back there all the time," explained Busso. "If I lost that first fight I gotta walk with my head down. I'm gonna keep walking through the old block with my head up."

"I'm gonna knock his block off," was Ortiz' retort. "I beat him the first time no matter what two of those officials had it. This time I'm gonna make it so big there won't be any question."

Busso closed strong in the final four rounds to gain a split verdict over the 9-5 favored Ortiz in the first scrap at the Garden June 27.

The loss was Ortiz' first in 28 pro fights. His record is 62-1 with one no-decision affair. He has scored nine kayos. Busso's record is 34-6-1 including 15 knockouts. He has won three straight.

Featherweight King, Willie Pep Wait Bout

BOSTON (AP) —Featherweight champion Hogan Bassey of Nigeria and former two-time king Willie Pep, both razor sharp after three weeks of intensive training, marked time today for their 10-round non - title bout Saturday night at the Boston Garden.

Bassey planned loosening-up exercises while Pep intended to do nothing more strenuous than take a walk.

Pep, at the crossroads of an amazing 18-year ring career, observed his 36th birthday today.

Bruce Pfann, Cornell's senior end, is the son of George Pfann, Cornell quarterback on the unbeaten Big Red teams of 1921-22-23. Bruce also captains the lacrosse team.

Del Flannigan Upsets Champ

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A victory over welterweight champ Virgil Akins sent the up-and-down career of Del Flanagan soaring to a new summit today.

But as far as Akins' camp is concerned the fancy-footed St. Paul Irishman may as well enjoy the view — he's not getting a title shot as long as Akins holds the crown.

This was the pronouncement of Bernie Glickman, Akins' co-manager and onetime manager of Flanagan, after Thursday nights bout.

"He won the fight, all right," Glickman said, "and he did another thing. He's never going to fight us with the title on the line. How do you fight a man like that? He was holding Akins all night."

Whatever happened, Akins was scarcely in the fight, a non-title 10-rounder. Flanagan's speed and neat combination punching won him a wide early margin. Akins, apparently protecting bruises above his eyes inflicted last month by Tombstone Smith, didn't start swinging his good wallops until the fifth.

Potters To Face Libbey In Second Tough Battle In Row

Toledo Team Given Edge In Contest Here

With a break in the weather, between 4,000 and 5,000 fans are expected to be on hand tonight at Patterson Field when Coach Lou Venditti's injury - plagued Potters face Toledo Libbey, one of the state's topflight teams.

Kickoff time is 7:45.

The fact that Libbey knocked off Lorain last week, plus serious injuries to two Potter regulars, makes the Blue and White a definite underdog.

Lorain was rated among Ohio's top 10 squads in a pre - season poll before being defeated, 21-14, by Libbey's Bill "Thunder" Thornton and Co.

—:—

THE OPENING whistle tonight will find the shallow - ranked Potters without the services of varsity center Charlie Barnhouse, who suffered a broken leg in last week's 20-20 tie with Akron St. Vincent, and tackle Jim Clunk, who suffered a head injury.

By comparison, the Cowboys came out of the Lorain scuffle in top shape and will be gunning for their second victory of the year under Coach Bob Momsen.

A question mark still hovers over veteran Potter guard Nick Musuraca. After missing the first game because of a bruised shoulder, Musuraca, a 160-pound senior, worked out in practice this week, but still sat out the heavy drills.

—:—

IT APPEARS as if Venditti will have to do some fast shuffling with his defensive unit to come up with enough fortifications to halt Thornton, reported to be one of the state's best fullbacks.

Filling in for the injured Barnhouse will be senior Joe Leigh, 175 pounds, who will play offense only. Carl Ludwig again will have to see double duty at the tackle spot.

Venditti pointed out that originally Ludwig could have been spelled by Clunk, but now an untried gridder will have to plug the gap in the line if it becomes necessary.

Libbey probably will operate mostly from the single wing, with the hard - running Thornton doing most of the ball carrying. Scouting reports on the Cowboys tag Thornton as the man to stop, but pointed out that the rest of the experienced backfield can't be overlooked either.

Toledo's halfbacks, Ike King and Billy Rayford, were both track standouts last spring. Teamed with Thornton, they give Libbey a dangerous scoring punch.

LIBBEY ALSO has two veteran ends, both good pass catchers, in Ellwood Rayford, 178 pounds, and Tyrone Adams, 189 pounds, and can flash a fair passing game if needed. Quarterback Bruce Ewen, 162 pounds, does most of the passing and is a returnee from last year.

Venditti will start the same backfield combination which turned in a good running game against St. Vincent. Junior Bob Mackall will go at quarterback, Dave Goodballet and Dave Zelch at the halves and Bill O'Neil at fullback.

Pat Cooper, who turned in a top-notch defensive job for the Potters in the Akron game, will go at right end and Ron Prince at the other terminal. Mike Kapp and Ludwig will see duty at the tackles and either Musuraca or Charlie Davidson will team with Jim Bise at the guards.

Late Bambino Pitcher Yanks 'Hated Most'

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Lary's feat of whipping the New York Yankees seven times this season naturally establishes the Detroit right-hander as the pitcher the American League champions "hate to meet the most."

That brings up the question: Which pitcher did the Yankees hate to meet the most since entering the league in 1903?

Was it Walter Johnson, who defeated them 60 times in a 20-year span? Was it Ed Walsh, who conquered them a record nine times in one season? Was it Lefty Grove, who beat them 35 times during the years that comprised their first dynasty?

Was it Hal Newhouser, who beat them six times in each of two different seasons? Was it Bob Feller, who hurled a no-hitter against Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller, Tommy Henrich and Co.? Or is it Lary, who holds 16 victories in 21 decisions with the Yankees?

None of these.

The pitcher the Yankees "hated to meet the most" was a fellow called Babe Ruth — the same Bambino who with his bat ruined enemy pitchers for the Yankees.

As a left-handed pitching star with the Boston Red Sox, from 1915 through 1919, Ruth whipped the Yankees 17 times. They beat him only five times. Three of his defeats were by shutouts, two by 1-0 scores. Another loss was by 2-1.

Yesterday's STARS

By The Associated Press

Pitching — Bud Daley, Athletics, gained his first complete game of the season with a five-hitter that beat the Red Sox 4-1, striking out four and walking but one.

Hitting — Red Schoendienst, Braves, had four hits in five trips, rapping three doubles and scoring three times in 9-3 victory over the Cardinals.

Cleveland Eyes Series At Detroit For Third Place

DETROIT (AP) — In a four-game series here with the Detroit Tigers this weekend, the Cleveland Indians could take third place away from their hosts by winning three times.

Cal McLish is hurling for the Tribe today, opposed by Paul Foytack. Saturday's double - header, which includes a makeup game, probably will find Hal Woodeshick and Gary Bell pitching for the Indians and Frank Lary and Bill Hoeft for the Tigers.

Next weekend the Indians will play their final three games against the Tigers in Cleveland. In their seven games the two clubs may settle the issue of third and fourth places in league standings, providing Boston does not revive enough to get into the act.

For while Cleveland is in fourth, two games behind Detroit, Boston is only half a game behind Cleveland—and will be playing six games with the last place Washington Senators.

Long Term As Coach

UNIVERSITY, Ala. (AP) — Frank Thomas, who coached football at the University of Alabama from 1931 through 1946, was at the helm of Tide elevens longer than any other coach.

Grid Renewal Pairs Toronto And Wellsville

One of the upper Ohio Valley's most hotly contested football rivalries—Wellsville and Toronto—will be renewed tonight when the Tigers host the Gem City eleven at Nicholson Stadium in Wellsville. It will be the 33rd meeting.

The series between the two schools dates back to 1921 and Wellsville has barely managed to retain only a two-game margin in the victory column over the span of years, winning 17 to Toronto's 15.

Tonight's game at 8 appears to be one of the most evenly-matched contests in recent years as both teams were hit heavily by graduation which left both new coaches with only a scant supply of experienced veterans.

Last year, Toronto emerged the victor, 20-7, while Wellsville won in 1956, 19-0. Across the years, the two squads have engaged in some real battles but Wellsville's decline as a football power in the last decade has enabled the Red Knights to nearly pull ahead in the series.

In the last 15 years, Toronto has won 11 and lost only 4 to the Tigers who once held a 13-4 margin in the period from 1921 to 1943.

Time was when Wellsville could count on the Knights as being a certain victim during the season. Wellsville opened the series in 1921 with a 28-6 triumph, lost two of the next three, and then embarked on a seven-game sweep from 1930 to 1937 when Toronto finally snapped the string by a score of 9-7.

Wellsville's great teams in the 1930's kept Toronto from scoring a touchdown while winning the series from 1930 to 1936.

At the end of the 1942 series, Wellsville had a 13-4 margin but has managed to win only four games from the Knights since then.

Toronto has completely dominated the annual battle in the years since 1943 and a four-game sweep from 1946 to 1950 helped keep Wellsville's victory margin to only a few games.

Wellsville's most decisive game was a 32-0 victory in 1932, but Toronto's strong squads in the late 1940's tagged the Tigers, 39-0. A dozen of the 32 games have been decided by only one touchdown or less.

Wellsville's new coach this year is youthful Ken Woods, formerly of Fairfield - Waterford, while Toronto is coached by 23-year-old Earl Biederman, the district's youngest head coach.

He played his football under Ara Parseghian at Miami University, while Woods was graduated from Cedarville College and received his master' degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Toronto, with only 26 men on its varsity roster, was trounced last week by Weirton, West Virginia state champions, 46-0, while Austintown Fitch trampled Wellsville, 60-14.

Chester Fullback Out With Sprained Ankle

Fullback Don Shaw, the only letterman on Chester High's football team this year, will definitely miss Saturday night's game with Beaver Local, Coach Dom Amedeo said today. The 175-pound senior is out with a sprained ankle suffered in Chesters' 19-13 victory over South Side last week. However, he will probably return to action next week against Wellsville, Amedeo said.

Former Coach At Palestine Wins Opener

Coach John Hogan, who piloted East Palestine to prominence in district football circles, apparently has carried his winning methods to Ashland High School, where he began his duties this fall.

The 30-year-old graduate of Cincinnati boasts the enviable record of having won 38 and lost only 9 during five years with East Palestine. His squads won the Tri-County championship three times.

Hogan made his debut at Ashland a successful one as his Arrows opened the new season with a 24-14 victory over arch-rival Shelby after winning only five games in the last five years.

While at Palestine, Hogan's squads totaled 1,194 points and held the opposition to 447. Jim Linder, who won the district scoring championship in 1956 with 180 points, and Beau Bell, who won the honor last year and is back again to attempt to duplicate the feat, both were tutored by the offensive-minded Hogan. Hogan was succeeded at East Palestine by Bob Mallory.

Eastern Hockey Loop Will Open On Oct. 23

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Eastern Hockey League will open its season Oct. 23 with seven clubs and a new owner for the Washington Presidents, League President Thomas Lockhart announced Thursday night.

Lockhart said the new club will be his New York Rovers, inactive for four years, and that Lou Pieri, owner of the Providence Reds of the American Hockey League, will take over the Washington club.

The other clubs are the Philadelphia Ramblers, the Johnstown Jets, the Clinton Comets, the Charlotte Clippers and the New Haven Blades.

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP) — St. John's University varsity teams had a winning percentage of .708 last season as a result of 75 victories and 31 defeats in seven sports. The rifle team won 22 of 23 matches while the cross - country team was unbeaten in seven meets. Tennis produced the only losing squad. The netmen won but one of 10 matches.

Pretty Well Set, Brown Says Of Cleveland Squad

CLEVELAND (AP)—Now that the exhibition football season is about over, Paul Brown calmly assesses his Cleveland squad as "pretty well set" in all offensive and defensive assignments.

Not that the Browns don't need plenty of practice in timing and working together. But Coach Brown seems to feel his material is sorted out properly, so the real preparations for the league season can start.

"There still is a fight at several positions for the third (string) job," he said. "In almost every case we've had a pretty good look at those in the competition."

Saturday night at Municipal Stadium the Browns will play an exhibition game with the Detroit Lions. Each club has won two and lost three exhibitions this year.

The Browns will have Milt Plum as quarterback, with Jim Ninowski as relief, sophomore Jim Brown as fullback and Ray Renfro as flanker. The running halfback job will be alternated between the two rookie scatbacks, Bobby Mitchell of Illinois and little Leroy Bolden of Michigan State.

Bobby Dodd is in his 14th season as Georgia Tech football coach. He is using a modified version of two - platoon football this fall.

Topic Of Hot Controversy

College Football Season Officially Opens Tonight

By The Associated Press

The 1958 college football season, a topic of hot controversy, officially opens tonight with new rules, new coaches and the same old upset potential.

The big game pits Oregon State, ranked No. 12 in The Associated Press preseason poll, against Southern California in the Pacific Coast Conference. It marks the beginning of the final year for the PCC.

Other games tonight include George Washington at Detroit, Catawba at Davidson and Jacksonville at Chattanooga.

Saturday, things begin to hop in the South and Southwest. There also will be a smattering of activity in the East, Midwest, Rockies and Far West.

This will produce the first test of new rules making an extra point worth two points by a run or pass, allowing a player to enter the game twice within the same quarter, forcing an offensive blocker to use one arm instead of two and allowing downfield blocking before the reception of a forward pass.

Mississippi, No. 6, the highest ranked team to see action, goes out of the Southeast Conference to play Memphis State, while the ranked Texas Christian meets the Big Eight's Kansas, under new coach Jack Mitchell.

North Carolina, ranked No. 10, plays rival North Carolina State in an Atlantic Coast Conference tilt.

In the second 10, Texas (No. 11) plays Georgia at night, while 18th-ranked Clemson faces ACC foe Virginia, where Dick Voris makes his debut for the Cavaliers.

On the Pacific Coast, Eastern independent Pitt (No. 19) faces UCLA, with George Dickerson taking over for the Uclans' late Red Sanders. Texas A&M, No. 20, under Jim Myers for the first time, plays Texas Tech, a non-football member of the Southwest Conference until 1960.

Television viewers get in on the act when Missouri hosts Vanderbilt and Oklahoma State plays Denver in the Rocky Mountain area.

Shadow Wave 'Jug' Winner

DELAWARE, Ohio. (AP) — You'd think a trainer-driver who has won more than $2,000,000 in purses in the last six years could pretty well figure when he has a chance to win a horse race.

But 41-year-old Joe O'Brien, who has piled up that big payoff, was fooled Thursday. He won the $65,252 Little Brown Jug for three-year-old pacers with the California comet, Shadow Wave, after deciding he couldn't do it.

But Shadow Wave, stout-hearted chestnut son of Adios, did it with a pair of 2:01 winning heats over Delaware County Fairgrounds' half mile track, picking up a $36,541 payoff.

O'Brien hadn't started Shadow Wave, owned by the S. A. Camp Farms of Shafter, Calif., since Sept. 4 at Indianapolis, and he figured the rest had benefited the speedster.

"But if Meadow Bucky hadn't broken off the pace, giving us a little racing room, and that opening in the front tier hadn't been there, I doubt if we'd have made it," he said.

Thorpe Hanover finished second in each heat, giving reinsman Del Miller his fourth straight second-place finish in the colorful "Jug." Thorpe's half brother O'Brien Hanover — both were sired by 1951 winner Tar Hell — took third money with a 3-4 finish.

Bye Bye Byrd, holder of the world record of 1:57 4-5 and an odds-on favorite, failed to threaten in either heat.

Rush, 32, Eyes First Chance To Pitch In World Series

Braves Could Wrap Up 1958 Flag Tonight

By The Associated Press

After 11 years in the majors, Bob Rush finally is going to get a chance to pitch in a World Series. And it looks like the big right-hander has ideas of being the Milwaukee Braves' No. 3 starter against the New York Yankees.

Rush, 32, who spent his first 10 seasons with the Chicago Cubs did the pitching Thursday night as the Braves whipped St. Louis 9-3 and reduced their magic number to two in the only National League game scheduled.

He wasn't particularly neat about it, giving up 11 hits, but he didn't walk a man while winning his third in a row. It was only his fifth complete game of the season, but his second in his last three starts. His record is 10-6.

With young Joey Jay unable to do more than sideline work because of a finger injury, Rush is grouped with Bob Buhl, Juan Pizarro and rookie Carl Willey in the competition for manager Fred Haney's favor as a third series starter behind Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette.

Buhl, out most of the season with injury, has worked only once since returning to action Labor Day. Pizarro, a lefty, Willey and Jay took up the slack when Buhl was out. Willey puts in his bid for a series start when he goes against Cincinnati tonight.

The Braves, who could clinch tonight with a victory should second place Pittsburgh lose to Philadelphia, beat the Cards with four runs in the fourth against Sam Jones (13-12). Red Schoendienst, who was 4-for-5, started it with one of his three doubles. Hank Aaron brought him home with a single. Wes Covington singled and Frank Torre then brought the Braves from behind with a two-run, two-out triple. Johnny Logan singled home the clincher.

Nationalists Stamp Mao As 'Red Bandit'

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Distribution of the current issue of Newsweek magazine was held up today while Nationalist authorities stamped the words "Communist Bandit" across the cover picture of Red Chinese Chairman Mao Tze-tung.

The U.S. magazine is expected to be distributed Saturday.

Football Coach Al Kelley of Brown has been an assistant football coach at Cornell and Yale. He is Cornell alumnus.

Band's Half-Time Show Titled Sacks Appeal

The East Liverpool High School Marching Band's half-time show at tonight's football game will center on a theme of poking fun at the sack dress. Titled "Sacks Appeal," it will include formations of the sack, trapeze and barrel dresses, with the majorettes "modeling" each style. Also featured this week is a new dance step for the band called "hesitation strut." Don Allen is director.

Ted Could Win Bat Title With His Lowest Average

By The Associated Press

The way things are going, Ted Williams might finish with his worst batting average ever for a full season in the majors — and still win the American League batting title.

He never has batted worse than .318 for a full season with the Boston Red Sox. That was in 1951. Now, at 40 and battling for his sixth crown, he's batting .318 and is just .001 behind teammate Pete Runnels, who leads the league.

Runnels lost three points to .319 with an 0-for-4 day as the Red Sox slipped to fifth with a 4-1 loss at Kansas City Thursday. Williams had a double in three at-bats, staying put in the averages. The A's Bob Cerv had one hit, his 37th homer, in three trips and remained at .315, tied for third with idle Vic Power of Cleveland and Harvey Kuenn of Detroit.

The Chicago White Sox defeated Baltimore 6-2 in the only other AL game scheduled Thursday.

The pennant-bound Milwaukee Braves whittled their magic number to two by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3 in the only National League game.

Williams, who has batted .345 (10-for-29) since returning from a bout with a virus, won the 1957 title with a .388 mark. His other champion averages were .406 (1941), .369 (1948), .356 (1942) and .343 (1947).

Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris also homered for the A's, in the first inning off rookie Ted Bowsfield (3-2). Pete Daley hit his second home run in the second inning and had two of Boston's six hits off left-hander Bud Daley (3-2).

Barry Latman (2-0), a young right-hander, blanked the Orioles on three singles in 7 2-3 innings of relief at Chicago. The White Sox took it with three runs in the fifth off Jack Harshman (11-14) on Al Smith's two-run double and a single by Ray Boone, who had hit his 13th homer earlier.

Grid Coach Uses Belt To 'Discipline' Player

WEST HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Here's one high school football coach who resorted to the belt to maintain discipline.

Coach Billy Irons of West Haven High had a problem when one of his young charges insisted on dressing for tonight's big game against East Haven despite a previous head injury.

"It was easy," said Irons. "I just took the belt to his pants away. He can't play football and hold up his pants, too."

Rush, 32, Eyes First Chance To Pitch In World Series

Braves Could Wrap Up 1958 Flag Tonight

By The Associated Press

After 11 years in the majors, Bob Rush finally is going to get a chance to pitch in a World Series. And it looks like the big right-hander has ideas of being the Milwaukee Braves' No. 3 starter against the New York Yankees.

Rush, 32, who spent his first 10 seasons with the Chicago Cubs did the pitching Thursday night as the Braves whipped St. Louis 9-3 and reduced their magic number to two in the only National League game scheduled.

He wasn't particularly neat about it, giving up 11 hits, but he didn't walk a man while winning his third in a row. It was only his fifth complete game of the season, but his second in his last three starts. His record is 10-6.

With young Joey Jay unable to do more than sideline work because of a finger injury, Rush is grouped with Bob Buhl, Juan Pizarro and rookie Carl Willey in the competition for manager Fred Haney's favor as a third series starter behind Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette.

Buhl, out most of the season with injury, has worked only once since returning to action Labor Day. Pizarro, a lefty, Willey and Jay took up the slack when Buhl was out. Willey puts in his bid for a series start when he goes against Cincinnati tonight.

The Braves, who could clinch tonight with a victory should second place Pittsburgh lose to Philadelphia, beat the Cards with four runs in the fourth against Sam Jones (13-12). Red Schoendienst, who was 4-for-5, started it with one of his three doubles. Hank Aaron brought him home with a single. Wes Covington singled and Frank Torre then brought the Braves from behind with a two-run, two-out triple. Johnny Logan singled home the clincher.

The East Liverpool High School Marching Band's half-time show at tonight's football game will center on a theme of poking fun at the sack dress. Titled "Sacks Appeal," it will include formations of the sack, trapeze and barrel dresses, with the majorettes "modeling" each style. Also featured this week is a new dance step for the band called "hesitation strut." Don Allen is director.

Ted Could Win Bat Title With His Lowest Average

By The Associated Press

The way things are going, Ted Williams might finish with his worst batting average ever for a full season in the majors — and still win the American League batting title.

He never has batted worse than .318 for a full season with the Boston Red Sox. That was in 1951. Now, at 40 and battling for his sixth crown, he's batting .318 and is just .001 behind teammate Pete Runnels, who leads the league.

Runnels lost three points to .319 with an 0-for-4 day as the Red Sox slipped to fifth with a 4-1 loss at Kansas City Thursday. Williams had a double in three at-bats, staying put in the averages. The A's Bob Cerv had one hit, his 37th homer, in three trips and remained at .315, tied for third with idle Vic Power of Cleveland and Harvey Kuenn of Detroit.

The Chicago White Sox defeated Baltimore 6-2 in the only other AL game scheduled Thursday.

The pennant-bound Milwaukee Braves whittled their magic number to two by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3 in the only National League game.

Williams, who has batted .345 (10-for-29) since returning from a bout with a virus, won the 1957 title with a .388 mark. His other champion averages were .406 (1941), .369 (1948), .356 (1942) and .343 (1947).

Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris also homered for the A's, in the first inning off rookie Ted Bowsfield (3-2). Pete Daley hit his second home run in the second inning and had two of Boston's six hits off left-hander Bud Daley (3-2).

Barry Latman (2-0), a young right-hander, blanked the Orioles on three singles in 7 2-3 innings of relief at Chicago. The White Sox took it with three runs in the fifth off Jack Harshman (11-14) on Al Smith's two-run double and a single by Ray Boone, who had hit his 13th homer earlier.

face at the window of the death car.

Capt. Lewis Whitecotton, state police ballistics expert, testified markings on five cartridge casings found at the scene matched casings of bullets fired from Schuck's .348 Winchester rifle.

State Trooper Roy Titler testified that on the morning of April 27 he found the rifle protruding from under the couch that Schuck slept on in the livingroom of his home.

Mrs. Ragozine testified Wednesday that she continued to see Schuck against her will so as to allay his threats against herself and her husband and three children.

Schuck said he drank two dozen shots of whisky that night. When he left the Glass Front Bar in Ambridge at closing time, he said he remembered nothing more except knocking over a piece of furniture when he arrived home. He did not know the time he got home.

Schuck's wife told how her husband would turn off the television set and send her out of the room when Mrs. Ragozine would phone.

She said some calls lasted from half an hour to three hours.

Ambulance Struck By Car

Palestine Man Hurt On Way To Hospital

An East Palestine man en route to Salem City Hospital was among three hurt in a collision of an ambulance and car at the intersection of Routes 14 and 164 near Columbiana Thursday night at 10.

Rupert McCarthy, 65, of 270 E. North Ave. is in "fair" condition at the hospital with bruises and abrasions of the left foot.

He was going to the hospital for a treatment of a perforated ulcer.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the ambulance, driven by Charles Clark, 52, of 674 E. Main St., East Palestine, was headed west on Route 14 when it passed into the intersection and was rammed by a car driven by Ray Edwards, 33, of Columbiana.

Clark was cited for failure to observe caution in passing through a red traffic signal. The patrol explained ambulance drivers are permitted to pass such signals if they observe caution.

McCarthy's wife, Ellen, 66, was treated for bruises of the right shoulder and thigh, and Paul Wayt of Columbiana, passenger in Edwards' car, suffered facial abrasions for which he was treated.

Man In Assault Case Faces FBI Detainer

A second detainer against John Peter Seay, 32, of Pittsburgh, indicted by the Hancock County Grand Jury for the alleged rape of a 13-year-old East Liverpool girl, is expected to be filed soon by the FBI, according to County officials.

East Liverpool police previously placed an abduction detainer on the river dredge worker who is accused of luring the girl to his car and taking her to a wooded area near Rock Springs Park in Chester, where she was allegedly attacked twice.

Sheriff's deputies pointed out that the FBI detainer is a formality as Seay is wanted in Virginia on two charges, including parole violation. The detainers will become effective only if Seay is not convicted in Hancock County Circuit Court.

Ike Planning Less Than Six Election Talks

GOP Campaigners Hoping Nixon Will Expand Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower apparently intends to limit his participation in the congressional campaign to fewer than half a dozen speeches in the final three weeks before the November election.

Republican campaigners, notified Eisenhower won't be available until after Oct. 15, are hoping Vice President Nixon will expand greatly a schedule that now calls for eight speeches in four states.

Although there has been no final decision, Eisenhower is expected to make personal appearances in the East, the Midwest and on the Pacific Coast.

About the only certainty thus far is that Eisenhower will visit California. There Sen. William F. Knowland, retiring as the Senate's minority leader, is facing an uphill battle in his fight for the governorship. GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight also apparently has the odds against him in seeking the Senate seat Knowland is vacating.

While there is no suggestion that Eisenhower's help would be unwelcome to any GOP Senate or House candidate, one Republican strategist said the demand for presidential appearances isn't as great as it was in 1956 or 1954.

On the other hand, Nixon was said to be receiving requests for campaign help that might cause him to reconsider his previous decision against the type of barnstorming he undertook four years ago.

Nixon has agreed thus far to make four speeches in California, where the outcome of the Knowland and Knight races may have a direct bearing on the vice president's expected bid for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Even in California, however, Nixon thus far has ruled out whistle stopping. Instead he will speak at party fund-raising dinners in San Diego Oct. 1, in Oakland the following day, in San Francisco Oct. 14 and in Los Angeles the next day.

Nixon will start his campaigning with an appearance in Indianapolis Sept. 29. He is billed to appear at fund-raising dinners in Philadelphia Oct. 8 and Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 28. He also will be principal speaker at the Republican State Convention in Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 9.

Urgent requests for Nixon's help are said to have come from GOP senatorial candidates in Arizona, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Probe Scheduled In Arkansas On NAACP Actions

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said Thursday he will launch an investigation into NAACP activities in Arkansas within six weeks.

Bennett told a visiting Britisher that he believed the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was "riddled with Communists."

The attorney general, an outspoken foe of the Negro organization, discussed his plans with Sir Lynn Ungoed-Thomas of London, who is visiting Little Rock on a study of racial troubles.

Bennett charged that Little Rock's integration turmoil resulted from NAACP activities in the city over a period of several years.

"I am going to show at hearings," he told Ungoed-Thomas, "that the NAACP is and was led by Moscow. I have considerable documentation on which to base this."

The Britisher is a former solicitor general of Great Britain.

Another Voter Signup Day Eyed In Cuyahoga

CLEVELAND (AP)—Election officials pondered today the possibility of another registration day. So many people poured into registration depots all over the county Thursday that many could not be signed up.

Dan W. Duffy, head of the election board, estimated there were 60,000 who registered at the 164 stations. Some of them waited an hour or two. At some stations the cards and other supplies ran out. It was the largest turnout ever recorded in a non-presidential year.

They record high in Cuyahoga County's voting registrations was 763,600 in 1952.

Thursday morning the figure stood at 705,222, so the record probably has been broken.

Italy Will Close Up Houses Of Prostitution

ROME, Italy (AP)—Sex is legally on sale for the last time in Italy today.

The country's "houses of tolerance" must close their doors tonight under the Merlin Act making prostitution illegal.

Summerfield Sees Better Mail Service

CINCINNATI (AP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield says there will be better mail service in the future despite a lack of facilities and an increasing volume of mail.

Summerfield was scheduled to be the principal speaker Thursday night at the closing convention banquet of the National Assn. of Postmasters, but a strained throat prevented him from giving the speech in person.

Deputy Postmaster General Edward O. Sessions read it for Summerfield as his boss sat alongside him.

"Lacking the facilities we need, operating under a huge postal deficit, handling an ever-increasing volume of mail, we shall, despite these handicaps, give the American people better mail service," Summerfield's speech said.

He declared Congress had turned down requests for building funds to provide 12,000 badly needed postal facilities.

"I won't give up fighting for this needed appropriation for modern postal facilities as long as I am your postmaster general," he said.

Summerfield added that recent increases in postal rates have not solved the postal deficit and that "the department is by no means on a self-supporting basis."

Ike Will Confer With Two Defense Chiefs At Capital

NEWPORT, (AP) — President Eisenhower will confer with two defense chiefs in Washington next week instead of meeting them at the summer White House today.

The original plan was for Secretary of Defense McElroy and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to come to Newport for separate conferences with the vacationing President this morning. The meetings were described as routine.

A change in signals was announced Thursday night. The meetings will be held in Washington next Tuesday when Eisenhower returns to be host at a White House stag luncheon for the foreign ministers of 20 Latin-American nations.

There still was no word whether that trip to the capital will end the work-vacation the President started here Aug. 29 or whether he will fly back to this resort area for a few more days.

Judge Nearing 76 Favors Controlled Lewd Houses

WALNUT GROVE, Calif. (AP) —Judge Milo E. Dye, who will be 76 Nov. 12, says he favors state controlled houses of prostitution.

The judge made that statement to newspapermen Thursday after assessing a total of $650 in fines from a man and four women who had been arrested in a brothel raid.

He had to enforce the law even if he did not agree with it, he declared.

State-controlled houses, he contended, would protect "our juveniles and virtuous women."

The judge mentioned the large numbers of transient workers in his area, which is about 70 miles northeast of San Francisco. He said they "should have the opportunity, perhaps, of obtaining personal satisfaction."

The judge is retiring Dec. 31 to go fishing and said his statement was an "idea I want to leave with the boys."

Hillcrest PTA Seats Officer

Term Committees Are Introduced

Committees for the year were introduced at the meeting of the Hillcrest Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night when a new officer was installed.

Richard Payne, president, presented the committees, including Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Rardin, Mrs. Betty Cline, Mrs. Virgil Koontz, Mrs. Albert Jones, Mrs. Joanne Downard, ways and means; Mrs. Nancy Henry, magazine sale; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howell, membership; Mrs. Mabel Richards, social; Mrs. Dorothy Kiddey, program, and Mrs. Dale Joy and Mrs. Myrtle Miller, publicity.

Joanne Kornbau was installed as treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Marybelle Crawford.

The ways and means committee announced a bake sale will be held Saturday at Wilson's Market and a carnival is planned next month.

The membership committee said it plans to sponsor a contest among classes with the room having the most parents as members winning a prize.

Mrs. Leola Mountford, principal of the Yellow Creek Township School, introduced teachers and a question-and-answer period followed. Devotions were led by Russell Howell.

The meetings were changed to the second Thursday of each month. Parents will meet with teachers in their rooms Oct. 9.

Every day in the United States there are at least six million persons who are too ill to carry on their regular work.

Ike Planning Less Than Six Election Talks

GOP Campaigners Hoping Nixon Will Expand Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower apparently intends to limit his participation in the congressional campaign to fewer than half a dozen speeches in the final three weeks before the November election.

Republican campaigners, notified Eisenhower won't be available until after Oct. 15, are hoping Vice President Nixon will expand greatly a schedule that now calls for eight speeches in four states.

Although there has been no final decision, Eisenhower is expected to make personal appearances in the East, the Midwest and on the Pacific Coast.

About the only certainty thus far is that Eisenhower will visit California. There Sen. William F. Knowland, retiring as the Senate's minority leader, is facing an uphill battle in his fight for the governorship. GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight also apparently has the odds against him in seeking the Senate seat Knowland is vacating.

While there is no suggestion that Eisenhower's help would be unwelcome to any GOP Senate or House candidate, one Republican strategist said the demand for presidential appearances isn't as great as it was in 1956 or 1954.

On the other hand, Nixon was said to be receiving requests for campaign help that might cause him to reconsider his previous decision against the type of barnstorming he undertook four years ago.

Nixon has agreed thus far to make four speeches in California, where the outcome of the Knowland and Knight races may have a direct bearing on the vice president's expected bid for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Even in California, however, Nixon thus far has ruled out whistle stopping. Instead he will speak at party fund-raising dinners in San Diego Oct. 1, in Oakland the following day, in San Francisco Oct. 14 and in Los Angeles the next day.

Nixon will start his campaigning with an appearance in Indianapolis Sept. 29. He is billed to appear at fund-raising dinners in Philadelphia Oct. 8 and Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 28. He also will be principal speaker at the Republican State Convention in Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 9.

Urgent requests for Nixon's help are said to have come from GOP senatorial candidates in Arizona, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Probe Scheduled In Arkansas On NAACP Actions

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said Thursday he will launch an investigation into NAACP activities in Arkansas within six weeks.

Bennett told a visiting Britisher that he believed the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was "riddled with Communists."

The attorney general, an outspoken foe of the Negro organization, discussed his plans with Sir Lynn Ungoed-Thomas of London, who is visiting Little Rock on a study of racial troubles.

Bennett charged that Little Rock's integration turmoil resulted from NAACP activities in the city over a period of several years.

"I am going to show at hearings," he told Ungoed-Thomas, "that the NAACP is and was led by Moscow. I have considerable documentation on which to base this."

The Britisher is a former solicitor general of Great Britain.

Another Voter Signup Day Eyed In Cuyahoga

CLEVELAND (AP)—Election officials pondered today the possibility of another registration day. So many people poured into registration depots all over the county Thursday that many could not be signed up.

Dan W. Duffy, head of the election board, estimated there were 60,000 who registered at the 164 stations. Some of them waited an hour or two. At some stations the cards and other supplies ran out. It was the largest turnout ever recorded in a non-presidential year.

They record high in Cuyahoga County's voting registrations was 763,600 in 1952.

Thursday morning the figure stood at 705,222, so the record probably has been broken.

Summerfield Sees Better Mail Service

CINCINNATI (AP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield says there will be better mail service in the future despite a lack of facilities and an increasing volume of mail.

Summerfield was scheduled to be the principal speaker Thursday night at the closing convention banquet of the National Assn. of Postmasters, but a strained throat prevented him from giving the speech in person.

Deputy Postmaster General Edward O. Sessions read it for Summerfield as his boss sat alongside him.

"Lacking the facilities we need, operating under a huge postal deficit, handling an ever-increasing volume of mail, we shall, despite these handicaps, give the American people better mail service," Summerfield's speech said.

He declared Congress had turned down requests for building funds to provide 12,000 badly needed postal facilities.

"I won't give up fighting for this needed appropriation for modern postal facilities as long as I am your postmaster general," he said.

Summerfield added that recent increases in postal rates have not solved the postal deficit and that "the department is by no means on a self-supporting basis."

Ike Will Confer With Two Defense Chiefs At Capital

NEWPORT, (AP) — President Eisenhower will confer with two defense chiefs in Washington next week instead of meeting them at the summer White House today.

The original plan was for Secretary of Defense McElroy and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to come to Newport for separate conferences with the vacationing President this morning. The meetings were described as routine.

A change in signals was announced Thursday night. The meetings will be held in Washington next Tuesday when Eisenhower returns to be host at a White House stag luncheon for the foreign ministers of 20 Latin-American nations.

There still was no word whether that trip to the capital will end the work-vacation the President started here Aug. 29 or whether he will fly back to this resort area for a few more days.

Judge Nearing 76 Favors Controlled Lewd Houses

WALNUT GROVE, Calif. (AP) —Judge Milo E. Dye, who will be 76 Nov. 12, says he favors state controlled houses of prostitution.

The judge made that statement to newspapermen Thursday after assessing a total of $650 in fines from a man and four women who had been arrested in a brothel raid.

He had to enforce the law even if he did not agree with it, he declared.

State-controlled houses, he contended, would protect "our juveniles and virtuous women."

The judge mentioned the large numbers of transient workers in his area, which is about 70 miles northeast of San Francisco. He said they "should have the opportunity, perhaps, of obtaining personal satisfaction."

The judge is retiring Dec. 31 to go fishing and said his statement was an "idea I want to leave with the boys."

Hillcrest PTA Seats Officer

Term Committees Are Introduced

Committees for the year were introduced at the meeting of the Hillcrest Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night when a new officer was installed.

Richard Payne, president, presented the committees, including Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Rardin, Mrs. Betty Cline, Mrs. Virgil Koontz, Mrs. Albert Jones, Mrs. Joanne Downard, ways and means; Mrs. Nancy Henry, magazine sale; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howell, membership; Mrs. Mabel Richards, social; Mrs. Dorothy Kiddey, program, and Mrs. Dale Joy and Mrs. Myrtle Miller, publicity.

Joanne Kornbau was installed as treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Marybelle Crawford.

The ways and means committee announced a bake sale will be held Saturday at Wilson's Market and a carnival is planned next month.

The membership committee said it plans to sponsor a contest among classes with the room having the most parents as members winning a prize.

Mrs. Leola Mountford, principal of the Yellow Creek Township School, introduced teachers and a question-and-answer period followed. Devotions were led by Russell Howell.

The meetings were changed to the second Thursday of each month. Parents will meet with teachers in their rooms Oct. 9.
